2-Phase Sewer Project Would Boost Costs

Pirnie Firm Warns Of Consequences If Funds Are Lacking

City Council and members of the Public Utility Commission were advised last night by a representative of the engineering firm which has undertaken the design of the proposed sewage expansion program that if the city cannot finance the cost of the project all at once, it will cost more than the original estimate of $750,000.

Walter McPhee, representing the Malcolm Pirnie Engineers of New York City, said that if the project had to be broken up into two phases because of the lack of available funds, both the engineering and construction fees would increase as a result of duplicated efforts.

The discussion also was attended by representatives of the Cleveland law firm of Singer, Dean and Scribner and the Toledo bond concern of Ryan, Sutherland and Co.

Retain Guy Mauro

It followed an eight-minute special Council meeting in which Council unanimously passed a motion retaining Attorney Guy Mauro to represent the city and county defendants in the Common Pleas Court action tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. which seeks to declare the legislation leading up to the $450,000 general obligation bond issue illegal. The hearing, if an unfavorable decision is rendered, could all but kill the bond issue.

Council also gave a second reading to an ordinance authorizing the sale of $325,000 in mortgage revenue bonds to help defray part of the cost of the sewage project. It was referred to the sewage and finance committee.

McPhee said that once the $325,000 mortgage revenue bond issue is sold, his company can proceed

Cyclists Hurt In Accident; Motorist Held

Four persons were injured in two traffic mishaps yesterday, state patrolmen report.

Two motorcyclists were injured at 1:15 p.m. when their cycle and an auto sideswiped on a county road four miles east of Lisbon.

Larry Glenn, 19, of Lisbon, operator of the cycle and a passenger, Harry Gamble, 25, of Elkton were brought to Salem City Hospital following the mishap. Glenn is in fairy good condition with a compound fracture of the left leg and lacerations of the knee and foot while Gamble is reported in good condition after sustaining a compound fracture of the left ankle.

According to patrolmen, the cycle and a car driven by Charles Gleisle, 82, of Lisbon, sideswiped, sending the cycle into a ditch. Gleisle, who failed to stop following the accident, will be charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

Gleisle was apprehended when a patrol car on the way to the scene of the accident passed him and observed that the left side of his car was badly damaged. The patrolman radioed for another patrol car to stop the motorist.

Two Youngstown persons were injured when a car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve on Route 7, six miles north

Puzzled At Apathy Of Voters

Ike Makes Headway For Republican Candidates, Studies Tour Of Midwest

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today he is puzzled by the apparent apathy among voters and hopes to do a little stirring up personally — if he can squeeze a one - day flying trip into his tight schedule.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was credited today with making some headway for Republican candidates but there was disagreement as to whether his late burst of campaigning will succeed in electing GOP Congress next Tuesday.

Democratic and Republican observers agreed generally that the President's appearances— which may be expanded on a flying trip late this week—have helped to stimulate interest in the congressional campaign.

The President, under urging from GOP leaders to undertake a barnstorming trip into six or seven states late this week, may announce his decision at a news conference today, his first here since Aug. 17.

There was speculation such a trip would include Detroit, Louisville, Ky.; Waterloo, Iowa; Minneapolis, Boston and Wilmington, Del., and possibly a stop in Ohio. All those states have close Senate races.

Deputy National Chairman Clayton W. Fritchey said Democrats face a virtual news blackout in the closing days of the campaign.

Fritchey said in an interview the Republicans are using the President to "obtain domination of the newspapers and the airways" and crowding the Democrats off the front pages. He said this is bound to have some effect, but that reports from individual races still indicate his party will win control of both houses of Congress.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell asked the national television and radio networks yesterday for free time to match that given to Eisenhower for what the White House called "nonpolitical" speeches.

Mitchell suggested coverage of a speech by Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee.

The air time request was granted by the NBC and rejected by the CBS and ABC.

CBS said its policy was "not to provide time to reply to the President . . . or members of his cabin-

Mitchell Pledges Any Aid Needed To Increase Jobs

Says '54 Was Most Prosperous Peacetime Year In U. S. History

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell has pledged "any government action necessary" to boost employment and living standards, carrying out the "prosperity without war" theme to which the Republicans have pitched their campaign to win control of the next Congress.

Following President Eisenhower's lead, Mitchell told a nationwide television and radio audience last night that 1954 has been "the most prosperous peacetime year in our history."

He lashed out at "politicians trying to get your vote by distorting facts and trying to scare you." He said that while there was some prosperity during the 20 years of Democratic administrations, "it was built on the suffering and tragedy of two wars."

The Eisenhower administration has brought about peace and increasingly prosperous times and is working for further economic improvement, he said.

"We are looking forward to more jobs, more production, and a higher standard of living for all Americans," he said.

"We Republicans are committed and determined to keep the people of the United States prosperous and to take any government action necessary to expand employment and have an ever-higher standard of living for all the people of the United States."

A September-October decline in the jobless total is normal, but the Commerce Department said this month's drop "appeared to be larger than usual." The department said the seasonally indicated decline normally would be 230,000.

The total of employed in October was put at 62,141,000—virtually unchanged from September.

Mitchell said the "latest information" indicates unemployment "is lower today."

"In fact," he added, "unemployment has been dropping sharply.

"All over the country, employment is increasing, new jobs are opening up."

Mitchell said he had employer reports of hiring plans in Michigan, Indiana, California, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts, Ohio and Iowa.

FINED IN LISBON

State Patrol Sets Up Roadblocks After Men Saw Bar To Freedom

State highway patrolmen today captured one of six men who escaped last night from the Mahoning County jail.

Sam Amecareli, 25, of Youngstown, was caught as he was hitchhiking along Ohio 422, three miles west of Warren. He offered no resistance and readily admitted he was one of the escapees.

Amecarelli's left hand was torn down to raw flesh from sliding down a fire hose from a third-story window of the jail.

The patrol set up roadblocks throughout the immediate area immediately after the mass escape.

Sheriff Paul J. Langley said the six men sawed through one bar in a cell block and two in the third-story window. Then they slid down a fire hose, which they tossed out the window.

At least some of the men were believed to have fled in an automobile that was seen at the entrance to an alley behind the jail, Sheriff Langley said.

The five men still free are listed as:

Edward Wild, 55, of Cleveland; Herman Donahue, 29, of Hammondsville, Jefferson County; Floyd Kent, 24, of East Liverpool; William W. Woods, 28, of East Liverpool; and Roy Moore, 31, of Wellsville.

Eight other prisoners in the cell block did not take part in the break. Sheriff Langley said they insisted they were asleep at the time and heard nothing, although the escape occurred at 7:40 p.m.

Woods, sentenced to one to 15 years at arraignment Oct. 4 in Common Pleas Court, Lisbon, for burglarizing a grocery store and an osteopath's office in East Liverpool, was awaiting commitment to the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Kent was awaiting sentence for burglarizing a tavern in East Liverpool. He was convicted Oct. 21.

Moore, convicted last Wednesday of burglarizing a Wellsville dwell-

Russians Set Off A-Blast Tests

U. S. Reports Dust Fall Is Widespread

WASHINGTON, (AP)—For the first time in over a year, the U.S. government has reported Russian atomic test blasts, thus confirming a Soviet announcement last month.

The Atomic Energy Commission issued a bare-boned statement last night telling of "a series of detonations of nuclear explosives in Soviet territory" starting in mid-September and "continuing at intervals to the present."

The use of the term "series of detonations" suggested to some observers the possibility that the Soviets may be developing a "family" of nuclear weapons, possibly including artillery shells.

Otherwise, the AEC statement shed little light. It gave no inkling as to whether the Russians had set off atomic or hydrogen devices.

It did say, "these tests have resulted in some widespread fall-out of radioactive material, but insignificantly in the United States." The commission did not say where in this country this fall-out was detected.

AEC said nothing about how it found out for itself about the Russian tests, but the reference to the nuclear fall-out may in itself be a hint.

Last Sept. 17, the Soviet Union announced it had exploded "one of a type of atomic weapons" with what it called "valuable results." The brief Red announcement said the test "will" enable Soviet scientists and engineers to solve successfully problems of defense from atomic attack."

Goshen Fund Drive At Halfway Mark

The Goshen Union Community Chest drive reached the half-way mark today when $950 was reported turned in. The goal is $1,800.

Chairman Ellis Steer urges team captains and workers to complete their canvassing and to report to him or Co-Chairman Floyd Vesey by the end of this week.

A Chest thermometer has been erected in Damascus to keep tab on the campaign.

Legion Plans Toy Workshop For 5th Year

The American Legion Post's toy workshop will resume operations Nov. 9 for its fifth year.

On that evening Legionnaires, aided by a host of Boy Scouts, will canvass the city for toys, dolls, and games which can be reconditioned for distribution to less fortunate children at Christmas time.

People with toys to donate are asked to leave their porch lights burning that night and the Scouts will stop.

Fred Roth is chairman of the Legion Toy Shop committee, aided by Jack Hickling, Joe Pasco, Joe Doyle and Richard Kilbreath.

Roth asks that doll dresses be clean and ironed, if at all possible. Discarded toys are sought and not ones which are broken beyond the hope of repair.

Last Christmas season the Legion distributed 4,000 toys to needy chidren through local and county welfare agencies, Post Adjutant Bud McNicol said.

Chest Fund Inches Closer To Goal

The Salem Community Chest fund inched closer to its goal today with $29,638 reported collected in the drive to reach the $45,810 total by this weekend.

The amount collected was increased almost $1,500 over yesterday's total of $28,163.

The present goal is the same as last year's and will benefit 10 Red Feather agencies.

GOP Criticized By Kefauver

Lauds Hays In Talk Here On Tuesday

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, speaking at a Democratic rally here yesterday, attacked what he termed the "Republican reactionary element in Washington," was full of praise for Wayne Hays, Democratic 18th district congressman. One hundred fifty persons heard Kefauver at the American Legion Home.

Kefauver, who was a candidate for the 1952 Democratic presidential nomination, termed Hayes as "one of the greatest and most influential members of the House of Representatives."

The Tennessee senior senator, who himself recently completed a heated contest to obtain the Democratic nomination for senator, opened his address by thanking all who had supported him in his unsuccessful bid for the presidential nomination and added that he now has no aspirations for anything other than being a member of the senate.

He refused comment when asked if he could be drafted.

Kefauver, criticizing the "reactionary element of the Republican party" which, he said, had President Eisenhower "hemmed in," commented on Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson's "bird dog" speech by saying that he thought "Wilson said exactly what was on his mind and in his heart."

"In my section," Kefauver said,

Engineer Dropped From Jury By Corrigan; Quizzing Goes On

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lawyers for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard dismissed a college - trained oil company engineer from the jury box today at the handsome osteopath's murder trial.

Using their third challenge, defense attorneys removed Victor B. Filimon, a good - looking resident of suburban Shaker Heights. He is married, but has no children.

That left each side with three automatic dismissals in their eight-day effort to pick a jury which will consider a state demand that Sheppard die in the electric chair for the bludgeon murder of his pregnant wife, Marilyn.

At the start of today's session, Defense Attorney Fred W. Garmone called back to the stand Miss Dorothy E. Lee, 26-year-old unmarried elevator operator who was seated tentatively yesterday.

Quizzed On Discussion

He questioned her again about her admitted discussion of the case with a brother-in-law some time last week. Miss Lee had said her brother-in-law expressed an opinion to her on the case, while they were driving his wife to a hospital, where she bore twin babies.

Miss Lee denied that she had expressed any opinion and said she couldn't help it if someone expressed one to her.

The defense then exercised its third premptory challenge on Filimon.

The chief counsel of that defense, white - haired William J. Corrigan, already has outlined his views on one aspect of the case: Sheppard's purported extra - marital relations.

Corrigan summed it up for reporters in a sentence: "Sam Sheppard loved his wife."

The veteran lawyer made the remark to reporters as the seventh day of Dr. Sheppard's murder trial closed yesterday with no assurance a final jury had been selected.

"Whether Sam Sheppard had intimacies with Susan Hayes, or any other woman, has nothing to do with whether or not he killed his wife Marilyn," Corrigan said, emphasing what he repeatedly has told prospective jurors.

Curvaceous Miss Hayes is a 24-

52 Stores Offer Prizes For Shoppers In Lucky Star Event

Salem's Lucky Star Days—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—may be your lucky days.

It's going to be the lucky day, or days, for at least 200 holders of lucky star numbers which are stuffed inside each copy of today's Salem News.

A numbered star will be found in each paper and 200 of those numbers can be matched in Salem Lucky Star stores where merchandise prizes worth $1,500 collectively, await the claimants.

The three-day Lucky Star event is expected to bring throngs of shoppers to Salem's business district, not only to find their lucky numbers but to take advantage of shopping bargains made available by the participating merchants for this shopping extrvaganza.

Each Lucky Star store is identified by the black and yellow star insignia in their store window. Fifty-two stores are taking part.

Most stores are giving more than one prize. In fact, one has 40 prizes marked and waiting only to be claimed by the holders of the Lucky Stars.

The prizes range in value from $5 to $500.

Each of the merchants taking part is certain that Greater Salem area shoppers are going to thoroughly enjoy Lucky Star Days. Most stores are offering specially-priced merchandise, too, for the three days.

The Lucky Stars are being distributed in today's Salem News here and in all of the surrounding towns where Salem shoppers reside.

Ample off-street parking is available for shoppers, Horace Schwartz chairman of the event, points out. Despite the fact that State Street is blocked because of the paving project, new parking lots and side streets will provide sufficient parking facilities for motorists.

Salineville Keno Operator Is Arrested

LISBON — Joseph P. Muncer, 712 Terrace Rd., Canton, was arrested Tuesday by a Columbiana County sheriff's deputy for operating a game of chance in Salineville.

The 51-year-old machinist pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp late Tuesday afternoon to operating a lottery. His bond was placed at $1,000.

The arrest followed an investigation by Prosecutor J. L. McDonald into a game called "keno" at the Lighthouse Roller Rink in Salineville.

The prosecutor, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Al Hartman, after watching the bingo-like game in operation Saturday night, approached Muncer, who allegedly backs the gambling game.

MacDonald said he asked the Canton man to close the place, and he complied.

The game, sponsored by the Salineville Community Improvement League, was in operation for two or three nights before county authorities stepped in.

Many of the women, who came in droves from long distances to play the game for cash prizes, were angry over the prosecutor's action in closing the operation. There were few local people among the patrons.

Handbills giving detailed directions to the roller rink were distributed in Stark County, from where most of the women came.

The Community Improvement League initiated the game to raise money to make improvements on the athletic field. MacDonad said all but 15 per cent of the cut went to Muncer.

The Stark County man, employed by the E. W. Bliss Co., once operated a game of keno at Lake Placentia in Knox Township. It was closed up by Prosecutor MacDonald.

Hillcrest Boy 7th County Polio Fatality

The seventh Columbiana County polio death this season occurred Tuesday at 11:30 p.m. in Youngstown South Side Hospital when Charles Henry, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henry of Hillcrest, near Wellsville, succumbed to the bulbar type of the disease.

A fifth grade student at Fairview School in Hillcrest, the boy became ill Saturday night and was admitted to the hospital Sunday evening.

Dr. George Pantera, County health commissioner, said no mass gamma globulin injections are planned at the school. He said parents of children attending the school have no cause for alarm. About 50 pupils were absent from classes this morning, apparently kept home by fearful parents.

Besides his mother and father, the boy is survived by two brothers, Edward, 12, a seventh grade student at the school, and Fred at the home; and grandparents, Walter Henry of East Liverpool and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Jenkins of Aliquippa, Pa.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Martin Funeral Home in East Liverpool where friends may call Thursday afternoon and evening. Burial will be in Yellow Creek Cemetery.

Rev. Richard Beibler, pastor of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church, will officiate.

The Judicial Ballot

Ohio's practice of choosing judges by popular vote gives voters an extra burden of responsibility.

They must "judge" their own judges. That is why judicial candidates are selected on a nonpartisan ballot. It is assumed that they should stand or fall on their personal merit, without regard to politics.

While there is a good deal of wishful thinking in that assumption, because judicial candidates do run in party primaries and never are without partisan identity, it nevertheless has been Ohio's practice to retain judges who have shown merit and to create new ones on the same merit basis when vacancies occur or replacements are needed.

Ohio Supreme Court Judge Henry A. Middleton of Toledo can expect to be reelected this year to a second five-year term on a merit basis. His opponent, James F. Bell, has been on the Common Pleas bench in Madison County since 1947. But there have been no complaints against Middleton, who proved to be a valuable addition to the Supreme Court in his first term.

Judge John H. Lamneck should be re-elected on the same basis. He had been a highly regarded probate and common pleas judge in Tuscarawas County before he became Ohio state welfare director by appointment in 1949. In 1953, he was appointed to succeed the late Judge Edward S. Matthias and is now going before the voters for the first time. His long judicial experience, his studies in the field of law and his numerous interests give him outstanding qualifications for the positon. His opponent is John M. Matthias, a municipal judge in Columbus.

Kingsley A. Taft, who was elected to the Supreme Court in 1948, is unopposed for a second term and has earned a vote of confidence from his fellow Ohioans.

The Price of Failure

Secretary of State Dulles, who has been frantically busy since early in 1953 picking up loose ends, seems suddeny to have run out of global emergencies.

His return from Paris and his report on the new European defense plan are being regarded in Washington as the climax of a successful mission. So far as is known, there is no urgent business to be taken care af anywhere at the moment. It is as though the fires had been put out and the fire department had returned to headquarters.

Instead of Secretary Dulles winging away to all points east and west from now on, it is likely there will be more winging to Washington. Chancellor Adenauer is due soon. Queen Mother Elizabeth is paying a courtesy call. The president of Liveria is making a visit. The prime minister of Pakistan was here recently. Others will follow.

Perhaps the reason was summed up by Secretary Dulles when he explained that the defense plan agreed on in Paris "had to succeed because the price of failure had become prohibitive."

Nothing in diplomatic relations ever happens as quickly or as easily as it would have to happen to satisfy those who grow impatient with delay. The United States has been impatient with all the delay growing out of Old World jealousies and hatreds. It has been impatient with the delays growing out of dislike of its own bumptious approach to problems that have been unsolved for generations.

But suddenly there is recognition in many parts on the world that the price of failure to bring about a worldwide defnse plan to offset the strength of the Communist conspiracy wou'd be prohibitive. That is what Secretary Dulles has been trying to establish while picking up the loose ends of foreign policy since 1953. His chances never looked any brighter than they look now.

Erie Out Of Steam

The compete transformation of the Erie Railroad from steam to diesel power is one of those almost-imperceptible changes which, when multiplied enough times, amount to a revolution, of a sort.

What is more, it did not happen in the long-ago past and is not just a dream for the future—it is going on right now. While it may appear commonplace to most of us, it certainly can not be viewed that way by the steam locomotive men. To them it means ending one career and adjusting to a different one.

It is the nature of industry to change as new economic factors and new materials appear. The rising cost of coal and the increasing supply of oil are working a drastic change in American railroads.

A circumstance worth nothing is that the last eight steam engines of the Erie were moved as "dead freight" from Jersey City to Chicago, where they were junked. Had they been able, it would have been fitting if they could have gone to their reward under their own power—relics of a gallant past.

Treachery Unlimited

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Anglo-American Relations New Target Of Reds

The Communist pretense that its activities are purely political and constitute merely the expression of "beliefs" rather than the doing of things aimed at fomenting conspiracies to injure free governments is unfortunately gaining in acceptance. This is largely due to the fact that many well-meaning people in the democracies of the world are being duped.

No better example of this can be cited than what is happening this very week in Great Britain over the case of Owen Lattimore, recently indicted in the U.S. for perjury. The "Manchester Guardian," whose liberalism in bygone days has won wide renown, has come out with an editorial denouncing the American embassy because it asked the British authorities for permission to gather some evidence needed by the U.S. Department of Justice in the Lattimore case. Such a request for cooperation is a matter of routine normally and the American government reciprocates often when the British want data from American sources for use in aiding the judicial arm of their government.

But the "Guardian" ignores that custom and claims that the British government is being dragged into "participation in the Republican campaign in the United States.

IN THE FIRST place, the Lattimore prosecution was initiated under the Truman administration. In the second place, the Lattimore trial doesn't begin until Jan. 10, when the political campaign will be over. In the third place, the information was not intended for public use because the government doesn't argue such cases in the press but before a trial judge.

Yet the editorial in the "Guardbroadcast on the radio, is to be made the basis for a sharp interrogation of the Churchill government by the Laborites, who are demanding that Britain not become party to the Lattimore case.

This is absurd on its face, but it makes excellent propaganda for the Reds and gives the impression that the United States is persecuting a man for his beliefs when the truth is the case turns on whether Lattimore did or did not lie when he answered certain questions before the Senate internal security subcommittee when it was headed by Sen. Pat McCarran.

Who is behind the effort to stir up the Lattimore case in the House of Commons? All that the Department of Justice wanted actually was some fact about the books published in Britain by Lattimore and their distribution in other countries. For one of the issues at stake in the trial is whether he was telling the truth as to whether he was a promoter of Communist causes.

The net result of a refusal to cooperate in a routine matter can only be to injure Anglo-American relations.

THE WHOLE AFFAIR is being trumped up in Britain to make it appear that the United States is not willing to safeguard freedom of speech in America. It is apparent that somebody is master-minding the kind of questions that are being given publicity in Britain in connection with "beliefs" as contrasted with acts.

Indeed, in the House of Commons on Oct. 21, a British government minister gave reassurance that the British civil workers would not be dismissed from the service "merely because they hold Marxist views unless there is reason to suppose that they will take action deleterious to the country or are on exceptionally confidential work.

When does the "clear and present danger" arise, as a famous American jurist expressed it in a court opinion? Does a nation wait for the conspiracy to be consummated before acting? No more realistic exposition of the whole problem has been made than in a dispatch about the internal troubles of Italy written on Oct. 21 from Rome by Walter Lippmann, who said:

"In principle it is clear, it seems to me, that democracies cannot permit totalitarian parties to enjoy civil rights and to win elections power, to abolish elections and civil rights. If the Italian democratic parties have really decided not to surrender the state, they have in principle taken the right decision. . .

"The question of principle is whether a free and democratic state has the right to allow institutions to be used by totalitarian parties to destroy freedom and democracy."

THAT IS THE burden of the very argument which has been made in the last few years by many Americans. They have felt that Congress was right in outlawing the Communist party for it never has been a political party. It has always been the instrument of a foreign government.

It has abused American institutions and preyed on the gullibility of the earnest but misguided groups who have thought of the Communists as mere politican wedded to a different philosophy of economic or social life. Instead, the Communists have been and are an active, fanatical organization controlled by a foreign government which has already directly and indirectly taken a huge toll of lives in the free world.

Simple Pleasures

By TRUMAN TWILL

When someone mentions "the simple pleasures," these are the ones that head my list

Going back to sleep on Sunday morning, the one day in the week when I don't have to be up and at 'em.

Watching the pitchmen and pitchwomen of television get loused up in their spiels, like the fellow the other night who was demonstrating blue and couldn't make the stuff stick.

Looking at the kitchen clock in the morning and discovering there is time for a third cup of coffee.

Whistling up the dogs and going for a 15-minute stroll over the meadow to the creek and back before settling down in the evening.

Looking at the wide-open face of any normal boy of eight and remembering how much fun it was to discover the world, marvel by marvel and delight by delight.

Feeling the moist, insistent nose of a faithful dog being rammed into a receptive hand.

Sniffng the first aroma of wood smoke on a crisp, sparkling night in October.

Sighing while the barber fusses with his scissors and comb on the back of your neck while your muscles relax and your eyelids grow heavy.

Changing from the kind of shoes a fellow is supposed to wear in an office into the kind of shoes a weekend farmer can wear when no one is looking.

Being privileged to take part in a lively conversation among people of good will and good humor.

Encountering some new idea clearly expressed in a pamphlet, magazine or book that hadn't been expected to contain anything special.

Watching the seasons change in terms of the two views most often seen—the one from the window where I work, which features rooftops and the blank walls of warehouses, and the one from the house where I live, which is trees, meadows, hillsides and valleys.

Starting and finally finishing some job that can be done with no accompaniment of tension or worry, such as digging up a bush permitted to grow in the wrong place.

Noting the devotion of animals to their young when they are helpless, then noting how their elders make the youngsters stand on their own feet when they have cased to be helpless.

Receiving a letter from a friend who hadn't been expected to write.

Setting off on the first stage of a new adventure undertaken for pure pleasure, such as the first few hours of a long - awaited vacation.

Standing an extra three minutes in a hot shower, letting the water trickle downward from the back of the head.

Admiring buildings, horses, sheep, machines, women, athetes, landscaping, furniture, fabric designs and everything else whose design has no visible flaw.

Watching the first leaves unfold in springtime.

Being informed that someone who deserved it got his ears knocked off in an election, a fight, an argument, or a legal proceeding.

Thoughts For Today

Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared.—Hebrews 5:7.

So a good prayer, though often used, is still fresh and fair in the ears and eyes of heaven.—Fuller.

The Colossus of Politics

Infiltration Of Innocent Organizations

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

From the earliest days, Lenin held that it was one of the functions of the Bolsheviks to support all national liberation movements.

Sokolsky

When the Communists seized the power in Russia in 1917, Stalin was appointed commissar of nationalities, his office being in charge of the many nationalities and linguistic groups within the Russian state. Karl Radek devoted himself to the problem of minorities in other countries. He was particularly interested in the Asiatic problem and directed much of the work of Michael Borodin, the Chicago lawyer, who for a short period directed the revolution under both Sun Yat-sen and Chiang Kaishek.

In the United States, no reference will be found to the use of the term "minorities," as referring to a whole community within our nation prior to the 1930's.

IT HAS BEEN part of the Communist program to fragment our people. Thus, Negroes, Jews and Roman Catholics have come to be referred to as minorities, when, in fact, neither by law nor by custom is such a term tolerable in the United States.

Even if such minority treatment is accorded some groups in particular areas, it is not of the nature of a European minority, which is a legal entity.

In recent decisions, the Supreme Court has, to an extent, liquidated some of the conditions which made it possible for Communist propaganda to establish such a term in our language.

Lenin held that the Russian proletariat must win over national liberation movements. In 1924-25, Soviet Russia established in Shanghai a propaganda center to work among the various peoples of Asia, stimulating national liberation movements.

This effort has been continuous since the Baku Congress of Nations of the Orient which met in 1920 for this purpose.

Every national liberation movement has been in contact with the Communist International and has been supported by it. This explains in a measure the relationship of Sun Yat-sen to Lenin after 1919; the closeness of Nehru's India to Soviet Russia, the pro-Communist sentiment in Indonesia, etc.

THE RIGHT OF a people to the use of their own language — also emphasized by Woodrow Wilson—was always uppermost in Lenin's mind and has been practised in Soviet Russia during the whole of the Communist regime, newspapers, magazines and books being published in the multitude of tongues which are used in that country.

In the United States, where a foreign language press is free to exist and where many languages are spoken freely, it is difficult to understand that language would play a political role. Yet to an Uzbeg, linguistic freedom is more significant than economic freedom: the former feeds his pride; the latter, he has never known.

This attitude of the Communists has been invaluable to them in their propaganda among the colonial and semi-colonial peoples whose concern is over questions of nationalism, language, local customs, the right to be part of an ancestral tradition without apology. As long as the Communists continue along this line, they do not antagonize these peoples.

The Indians, who still shrink from the possibility of a restoration of some form of Anglo-Saxon contdol regard the Russian attitude as favorable to them, even though it may lead to ultimate conquest, which they do not believe.

It is a curious political phenomenon that although the Soviet Universal State has absorbed a large number of countries, the Asiatic nations, on the verge of conquest, indicate no fear.

THE COMMUNISTS have been able in many countries, including the United States, to infiltrate organs of the people through national liberation movements. In the United States many such movements come into existence, particuarly in war years.

The Americans who support them usually limit their activities to contributing money, petitioning Congress and sending delegations to the State Department. The infiltrating Communists seek to work inside the organizations, which mostly start out as one-purpose temporary committees.

By capturing the organizational work and often the office force, they strive to make such a committee a permanent organization, staffed by Communists and fellow-travellers. That is why so many of them are on the attorney general's list and why so many innocents find themselves embarrased by the publication of their names, as associated with subversive activities.

It is of value to understand this particular phas of Communist activity, which the United States has failed to combat and has no program to meet it.

Ohio's Bender Big Hope of GOP

There seems to be cropping up in all stories about political prospects in the various states the prediction that George Bender, Republican, has an "edge" over Thomas A. Burke, Democrat, in the contest for the Senate seat vacated by the death of Taft.

There must be some reason for this bit of cheer for Republicans amid the gloom of what seems to be descending night. I made some inquiries about it when I was in Ohio 10 days ago and have made further inquiries since.

The reason, it was made clear to me, rests upon a number of conditions and circumstances.

First, it is a tradition and a habit of Ohio Republicans to be loyal to their party's candidates. No state had more cause to sulk in 1952, because of the convention defeat of its idol, Bob Taft. But led by Taft himself and the everstead'ast Republican John Bricker, the state whipped itself behind the Eisenhower ticket and won all along the line.

A SECOND reason this year for the vitality of Republicanism is the shadow of Taft. He is revered in death even more than he was supported in life. His loss makes people in the state realize, as in fact they realize in Congress and over the nation, what a void his death created.

Things, they say, would be different if he had been there to advise a greenhorn in the White House. In this campaign references to the late senator are heard with fervent but awesome respect. Even Democrats cannot talk back to the spirit of greatness.

A third factor in the apparent strength of Bender is the press support, for a very large proportion of the major newsapers of the state are supporting Bender.

A fourth factor is George Bender himself. I have heard Bender criticized over a period of 30 years for faults and sins and short comings.

Somehow he has remained during all that time a major figure in Ohio politics. A man must have something substantial to weather what Bender has been through.

IN POLITICS he is a pro of pros. Politics has been the breath of his life every hour of every day. He has taken defeat and victory with imperturbable self-assurance. He led the cheering for Taft at Chicago, but after the crash he was there to lead the band for the candidate.

There is one thing about Bender that over the years has made him thousands of friends He has never tried to be anybody but himself. This trait, as I have seen them come and go, has almost invariably been true of Ohio statesmen or, if you will, politicians.

Slight elevations of the nose may greet their name in some circles in New York and Washington. That was true of mentions of Taft before 1952. It is true with Bricker now. But press the people who hold those opinions and they take refuge in the usual metropolitan cliches such as "isolationist," etc. There is no substance in the critics.

BENDER'S PLAIN virtues have been admirably projected in a television series prepared by Paul Manning as a professional service. There is portrayed in ample variety the Bender of everyday life. These portrayals in my judgment are worth a thousand speeches.

Finally, Bender is being served well by the labor bosses. They are out there with their exaggerations, their dreary predictions, and their well filled treasury.

All this may drive many, many thousands of their card carrying members to vote for the people the bosses oppose, just as they did for Taft in 1950.

I make no predictions in this cloudy year, but as of now Bender seems to be doing well.

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Moonlight And Dimples

Both political parties are making a big mistake. Neither the Republicans nor Democrats are smart enough to realize that the first to indorse Liberace can win. Here is a guy who has a hold on women unequaled since Rudy Valentino; and the female vote can swing the elections.

The gals are gushing over this toothy Apollo, this Galahad of Grins, Adonis of the Autographic Airwaves, D'Artagnan of Dimples and Beaming Barrymore of the Piano, from coast to coast and border to border.

The first reaction of the men folks to Liberace is to wince and wonder. There are males who are so disturbed by him that they join Anti-Smile Clubs and even lead "The - Non - Stop-Grin-Must-Go" moves. But women folks, young, old or medium seem to go for him in a big way, craving his autograph, wilting under his wrap-around smile and organizing Liberace Fan Clubs all over the lot.

Put him in the costume of a sheik of Arabia aboard an Arabian steed in the white sands of the desert, with piano-toting camels, and here is a fellow who can make Valentino look like a minor leaguer in the romantic league. Liberace is a phenomenon. Such unceasing smiles and dimples would kill most men. They have made Liberace.

Coupled with a piano, candlelights, dress suits, white ties and a soft voice they have softened up American womanhood to an alarming degree. Son of Polish parents who never let him skip a piano lesson, he is a Paderewski who will tap dance or do a Charleston at a drop of the hat . . . He is a Frank Merriwell of the concert hall . . . combination of a Macy window Easter rabbit; the shaggiest Newfoundland in toyland; a Greek god with a candelabra.

It is our theory that the panic he stirs among women is due to a natural reaction against this era of the hard-pressed, serious, rugged male who, under the cares of the complicated age, has become a sourpuss. Husbands everywhere come home from the office with their jaws set, their expressions stern and their voices rasping. Now into the lives of the missus comes a fellow who never stops smiling, beams lovingly at her from countless TV screens, sings of love and kisses, insists upon soft lights and tinkles the piano keys as if nothing else on earth mattered.

It's a wonderful leap from "I had a terrible day at the office, dear; where's the aspirin?" to the Moonlight Sonata and a saccharine "Thank you all so very, very much for letting me into your living rooms."

The Liberace situation is serious, men. Those who wear grim expressions, don't come home bubbling over with sentimental chatter, eat in their shirtsleeves, read the papers at breakfast and can't play a note on the piano are meeting with a sudden but substantial chill from the wife. There is a sort of "Oh, why didn't your parents make you take piano lessons?" in their expressions . . . Husbands say a smiling, happy countenance is a cheering thing, but it can be annoying when it is made into a production number.

The ear to ear extra width "expansive special" grin has had many exponents but it has remained for Liberace to bring America the "wrap - around windshield smile." We have never seen a smile quite like this one .. . It is a 3-D affair. The man is primarily a pianist. His fame and fortune are boosting piano sales, causing piano teachers to stop complaining that business is bad and making willing pupils of the most reluctant kids.

Stirred by his income and popularity, many a mother is now saying to Little Willie, "You settle down and do your exercises or I'll bust your head. And smile, darn it, smile!" (Again we urge the political parties to get Liberace into the election picture. How about a promise of two candelabra in every garage and a soft voice in every home?)

Levies Vital To United Local

School Depends On Renewal For Operation

In order to receive state funds for the operation of United Local School, board of education president, Elmer Stamp, said today that the two three-mill levies must be renewed Nov. 2.

Mr. Stamp, in urging the renewal of the levies, stressed the fact that the school would not be able to keep open the entire school year of 180 days if th $74,000 from the State Foundation Program was not assured.

Failure to pass the levy would necessitate a special election, according to Mr. Stamp and board clerk, Homer Dorr.

According to Dale W. Yates, superintendent of United Local, the welfare of 940 boys and girls are affected by the levies.

The United Local board stressed the fact that nine of the 12 local school districts in Columbiana County pay more for operating expenses than United Local.

One of the levies up for renewal was passed in 1949 and the other in 1952. Both expire Dec. 31 of this year.

He told meetings in Franklin County that the state board of tax appeals had exceeded its authority to equalize land values on tax duplicates by "imposing arbitrary standards."

Office Girls Party Enjoyed Amid Halloween Festivities

Jack-o-lanterns and tall lighted orange tapers p'aced down the long tables in the Masonic temple dining room, added to the festive Halloween setting in which 202 office girls of 16 Salem manufacturing companies enjoyed their 16th annual dinner party Monday evening.

As the guests were met at the door they were pinned with colorful paper leaves which served as identification tags.

On the reception committee were Electric Furnace Co. girls and committee members, Elizabeth Leonard, Phyllis Feicht, Freda Hermann, Joyce Vaughn, Alice Hum, Ann Sweeney, Jean Albright and Carolyn Harrington.

As hostesses the girls of the E. W. Bliss Co., represented by Shirley Davidson, party chairman, welcomed the group. Invitations were sent out by Katherine Minth, Marie Becker, Theresa Beck, Lois Hawkins and Jane Royle. Printed programs were the work of Rosaleen Keeler, Martha Templeton, Jeanette Kyser, Jo Anne Crawford, Kathryn Trombitas and Mary Lou Leaf, and table decorations, Mildred Alek, Nancy Loshinsky, Betty Lynch, Evelyn Silvers and June Kennedy.

Purse size atomizers, which were gifts of the Bliss Co., were the favors. On the favor committee were Louise McGarvey, Ruby Kurtz, Zelda Bush, Loretta Wilkinson, and Dorothy Griffith.

Throughout the dinner hour Mrs. E. W. Mellinger of Leetonia, accomplished harpist, played various selections.

Entertainment was arranged for by a Salem China Co. committee including Mrs. Rudy Linder, Doris Smith, Laura Gwinn, Mrs. Bruce Cope and Nellie DeBee.

The latest fashions for morning wear; the newest coats in vogue for the fall and winter season, and different colors and styles in afternoon and evening dress for milady were shown in the style show staged by Hansell's store, in cooperation with Doutt's Millinery. Commentator was Miss Kay Sheerer.

Models were Mrs. Richard Hartsough, Mrs. Elliott Hansell, Mrs. Helen Root, Miss Joan Robusch, Mrs. Ray Lowry and Miss Rosaleen Keeler. Mrs. Richard Tullis was pianist for the show and for part of the entertainment.

"My Lady Love" and "Let's Take an Old-Fashioned Walk" were presented by Jeff Smith and Candy Roth, a costumed youthful song and dance team.

Also presented in the diversified entertainment was the short skit by Susan Gray and Donna Burton in which they mimicked Liberace.

In conclusion prizes were awarded to the following girls: May Wilde of Elijer; Dorothy Griffith and Zelda Bush of Bliss; Carol Johnson of Salem Brosius; Mary Costanzo, Electric Furnace; Betty Spear, Demings; Janice Sell, Salem Tool; and Joan Lesch, Jean Weber, Ruth Mancuso, Helen Duko and Carolyn Gottschall, of Mullins.

Mary Ratscher, Charlotte McMullen and Helen Duko headed the prize committee for the Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

Hostesses for next year's affair, which probably will be held in October, will be girls of the C. B. Hunt Co.

REHEARSAL SCHEDULE

Rhearsals for both the Junior Choir and the Girls Choir of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church scheduled for Thursday evening have been cancelled. Rehearsals for both choirs will continue next week.

Todd-Whinnery Wedding Held In Church Rectory

At a lovely afternoon wedding at St. Paul's Rectory Saturday at 4, the former Miss Barbara Jean Todd, daughter of Mrs. Clara Johnson of Prospect St. and Eugene Todd of Lakemore, became the bride of Earl Roger Whinnery of East Palestine.

Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney performed the single ring ceremony which was witnessed by the immediate families.

The bride, who carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis showered with white satin streamers, was given in marriage by her grandfather, John Mlinarcik Sr.

Mrs. Earl Whinnery

She wore a hoop-skirted gown of crystal silk fashioned with a V-neckline, long pointed sleeves and fitted bodice. Her silk illusion fingertip veil was held in place by a half-bonnet embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, which was a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Katherine Todd was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown of pink Chantilly lace was designed with a lace bodice and nylon net skirt over taffeta. She wore a matching pink lace hat and carried a nosegay of pink roses and white pompons. Her rhinestone bracelet was a gift from the bride.

Peter D. Montleone, best man, was remembered with a cigaret lighter from the bridegroom.

The bride's mother, dressed in turquoise rayon faille, and Mrs. Whinnery in cerise faille, both used black accessories and wore corsages of white gardenias.

100 At Reception

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride for 100 guests from Winona, East Palestine, Youngstown, Lisbon, Alliance, Salem, and New York, and Monaca, Pa.

Bouquets of roses added beauty to setting at the table which was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Clarence Tracy of Lisbon, aunt of the bridegroom, cut the cake, and serving were other aunts of the newlyweds, Mrs. John Mlinarcik Jr., Mrs. C. R. McNutt, and Mrs. George Mlinarcik of Salem. Miss Margaret Howe registered the guests.

The bride, a graduate of Salem High School, was employed by the Catholic Charaties Bureau. The bridegroom attended Salem High School. He is employed by the Nash Co. of East Palestine, where the couple will reside at 561 W. North Ave.

For traveling to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Whinnery wore a navy blue knitted suit with red accessories and a red rose corsage.

Election Day Cake Is Tradition

Early in the 1800's, Hartford, Conn., originated the idea of eating a special cake on election day. That local custom has spread throughout the U.S. and this year bakers all over the country are featuring a 1954 version of the traditional Hartford election day cake.

It is a yeast - raised cake full of fruit and raisins, spices and nuts. Serve it as is or as they sometimes do in Hartford, with a dusting of confectioners' sugar or a sprinkling of molasses: or frost with plain sugar frosting, or serve with hard or foamy sauce cut into donkey and elephant shapes.

Connecticut Hard Sauce
(Makes 1⅛ cups)

Cream thoroughly 1-3 cup margarine and continue creaming 1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla extract. Mix well. Chill.

To make election day hard sauce donkeys and elephants — On a piece of waxed paper placed on a cookie sheet, spread hard sauce with a spatula. Chill in refrigerator or freezer until hard. Cut out donkey and elephant shapes with cookie cutters.

Old-Fashioned Foamy Sauce
(Makes 12 ounces)

Cream thoroughly 2 tablespoons margarine or butter. Add gradually and cream ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar. Add and beat well 1 egg yolk, beaten. Add alternately, beating to keep smooth after each addition, 1 cup confectioners' sugar, and 2 tablespoons milk.

Add and beat in ¼ teaspoon vanilla. Beat until stiff, but not dry, 1 egg white. Add gradually and beat in ¼ cup confectioners' sugar. Fold sugar - margarine or sugar-butter mixture into beaten egg white.

year-old hospital technician who admitted being intimate with the defendant in California four months before his wife was bludgeoned to death July 4. She is expected to be a main witness for the state.

Corrigan's statement that Sheppard was in love with his wife was in line with the case he presented in a bail hearing last month.

During the hearing, in which bail was denied Sheppard, Corrigan presented several witnesses whose testimony gave the impression the Sheppards were a happily married couple.

In yesterday's trial session, three more substitute jurors were seated. That made a total of five new jurors picked in the past two days to replace those excused by peremptory challenges.

The state now has used up three of its six challenges while the defense has used only two. Peremptory challenges enable either side to dismiss tentative jurors without a given reason.

Lisbon Man Wounded In Shooting Mishap

LISBON — Conflicting theories surround a shooting incident Saturday morning which sent a 49-year-old local bricklayer to the hospital.

Llewellyn (Max) Jenkins, who lives at the Lisbon Hotel, was reported today in satisfactory condition at the Salem Central Clinic where he is being treated for .12 gauge shotgun wounds of the lower chest.

The laborer told Lisbon police his gun accidentally discharged while he was cleaning it in his hotel room.

A shotgun found lying dismantled in Jenkins' quarters had a clean bore, indicating it has not been recently fired, police said.

A hole had been blasted in the ceiling directly above the bed.

When police arrived to investigate, Jenkins was in the hotel lobby. He denied that any shooting incident had occurred. "I'm all right," he repeatedly told cops, before he was taken to the clinic.

Police said they would question Jenkins further when he is released from the hospital.

But as he traveled southward, one sow decided to farrow. She had a family of nine.

Customs officials heard Thompson's story and decided to let him through — even if he did have 12 pigs instead of three, as the papers indicated.

Russia, Allies Agree To Put A-Bomb Ban Before U. S. Group

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Russia reportedly has agreed with France, Britain, the United States and Canada to seek to have India's call for a standstill on atomic and hydrogen bomb production transferred to the U.N. Disarmament Commission.

Word of the decision came as the five powers met behind the scenes in advance of the vote by the General Assembly's Political Committee on their joint resolution asking that the disarmament question be turned over to them as a subcommittee.

Israeli representatives, meanwhile, planned to ask the Security Council for another urgent meeting on their nation's complaint against the Egyptian seizure of the Israeli freighter Bat Galim at the Suez Canal. They said the Israeli-Egyptian Mixed Armistice Commission in Jerusalem has been unable to agree on the handling of the issue.

The reported decision on the Indian resolution was second agreement within a week between the Soviet Union and the west on disarmament questions. Russian delegates earlier agred to join in sponsoring the resolution asking for secret subcommittee talks.

The Indian resolution, presented to the Political Committee yesterday by V. K. Krishna Menon, called on the big powers to stop turning out atomic and hydrogen bombs until a worldwide disarmament agreement could be reached.

American circles argued that Menon's proposal was premature at this stage since no real disarmament agreement was in sight.

The disarmament subcommittee is expected to discuss these main proposals:

1. Russia's new plan for step-by-step disarmament accompanied by elimination of nuclear weapons.

2. The British-French proposal on which the Soviet scheme is partly based. This calls for outlawing atomic weapons except for defense purposes.

3. A U.S. proposal—bitterly opposed by the Soviets—which calls for strong control measures to enforce disarmament.

'55 PONTIAC HAS NEW LOOK.—"Vogue" two-toning and new panoramic body styling enhance the long sleek look of the all new 1955 Pontiac Star Chief Custom Catalina (shown above).

The new 1955 Pontiac embodies more engineering advances in its mechanical make-up than has any model since the introduction of the first Pontiac car in 1926.

It has 109 new features, among them the 180 horsepower, overhead valve, Strato-Streak V-8 engine. Styling of the new Pontiac captures the best streamlines and color combinations. The first glance at the Pontiac reveals its low, rakish silhouette.

The overall height of the new bodies is two and three-fourths inches lower while the hood line is lowered three and three-fourths inches. The panoramic windshield and increased glass area in all windows give it a "dream-car" look.

Fairless Sees Economic Rise

Good Year Predicted For Steel In 1955

NEW YORK (AP) — Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman of United States Steel Corp. believes the nation's economy will be more prosperous in 1955 than this year.

For the steel industry he predicts "a good year, a better steel year than 1954."

He told newsmen that reduction of steel inventories in the current year has been responsible for the lower operating rate but that this process should work in reverse next year.

At present, he said, steel inventories of the automobile companies are too low to produce the forthcoming new models. He added that this condition applies not only to the auto industry but is "quite general."

Fairless expressed his opinions after the board of directors of the world's biggest steel producer declared yesterday the usual dividend of 75 cents a share on common stock, payable Dec. 10 to holders of record Nov. 5.

The company, maker of a third of the nation's steel, reported third quarter earnings of $44,323,860, equal to $1.44 a share, compared with $49,020,738, or $1.63 a share for the second quarter, and $61,706,264, or $2.12 a share for the third quarter of last year, a record-breaking year both for U.S. Steel and the entire American steelmaking industry.

The nine months earnings were $138,174,974, or $4.55 a share, compared with $166,723,028, or $5.66 a share for the like period last year.

The 1954 nine months' net represented a return of 5.7 per cent on sales, exactly the same return as for the like period of '53.

U. S. Steel operated at an average of 66.3 per cent of rated capacity in the third quarter, compared with the national average of 64.1 per cent in the quarter.

The company operated at 80.8 per cent in the first quarter and 70.7 per cent in the second quarter.

Fairless said that fourth quarter operations of his company should be about 75 epr cent of rated capacity and "might creep above that a little."

Lisbon Woman Loses $10 To Purse Snatcher

LISBON — A cloth handbag was ripped from the arm of a west end housewife Saturday night as she walked down an alley three blocks from her home on her way to visit relatives.

Mrs. Harold Hollinger, 533 W. Washington St. told village police a slender, young man in a dark suit hit her on the shoulder and jerked the pocketbook, containing $10 from her arm, leaving her holding the strap.

Police said today they have no clues on the purse-snatching, first reported here in over nine years.

Mrs. Hollinger screamed, but the youth fled before residents Elmer Davis and Miss Joan Reese called police.

Ohio Grangers Ask Farm Supports End

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farmers meeting here at the 82nd annual meeting of the Ohio State Grange yesterday called for an end of federal supports on farm crops. Ohio's is the nation's largest state grange.

Some 1,500 delegates unanimously approved a resolution which sought to relieve farmers of the "burden of government controls." It also said price supports were of insufficient benefit to merit continuance.

Basic commodities now supported include corn, wheat, cotton, rice and peanuts.

All officers of the Grange were re-elected yesterday. They include Byron Frederick of Summit County, Grange master.

217 Found Dead From Cloudbursts

Toll May Climb In Italy's Coast Area

SALERNO, Italy (AP) — Rescue workers dug frantically through the mud-covered rubble of homes along the Gulf of Salerno today, seeking more victims of Tuesday's violent cloudbursts, landslides and floods.

At least 217 persons were known dead and unofficial reports put the toll as high as 270. Officials declined to even guess at the total damage figure, but said it would run into millions of dollars.

Devastating flash floods triggered by cloudbursts struck a 10-mile coastal area between Amalfi and Salerno during the early morning darkness yesterday. Entire villages were destroyed. Hundreds of homes crumbled, their occupants trapped without warning. Hundreds of persons were injured and thousands were homeless.

Police said the bodies of 217 persons had been recovered in Salerno, Vietra and smaller towns along the Bay of Salerno. They listed an additional 52 persons as missing and feared dead but unofficial sources estimated at least 170 persons were missing.

While soldiers, firemen and volunteers searched the debris for victims and trapped survivors, thousands of other workers began the task of restoring some form of normalcy to the ravaged communities. Communications, roadways, water, gas, electricity and sewer systems were demolished.

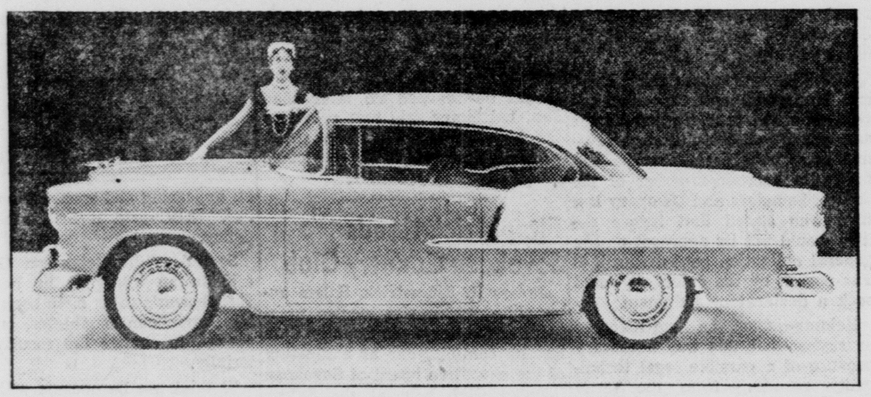

Violent early morning winds and rain swept in from the Tyrrhenian Sea to hamper their work.

Some communities reported all food supplies and water gone. Other villages sent urgent pleas for medicine.

In this city of 70,000 where American troops stormed ashore 11 years ago during World War II, the verified death toll reached 87. More than 100 persons were injured and 5,000 were homeless.

In Vietri, a city of 10,000, 30 persons were known dead. The other victims lived in a score of surrounding towns.

A U.S. Navy spokesman at Naples said American ships and vehicles were ready to go to the assistance of the stricken area but would not do so unless asked.

CHEVROLET FOR 1955.—Certain to share the beauty spotlight in Chevrolet's latest line of passenger car models is the Bel Air sport coupe, completely re-styled for 1955.

Among noteworthy features in the above view are the broad, low grille and hood lines, appreciably increased vision through the new sweep-sight wind-shield, and the effect of fleetness imparted by chrome molding strips. The new cars have the first V8 engine offered on a Chevrolet in 35 years. The horsepower rating is higher and improvements made generally throughout the Chevrolet for 1955 which is on display tomorrow at Parker Chevrolet.

All roofs have been visibly lowered with a corresponding reduction in hood and belt lines to accentuate a longer, fleeter appearance. Overall, sedans have been lowered two and one-half inches, station wagons as much as six. At the same time, passenger room has been increased.

TAVERN OWNER CHARGED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state board of liquor control yesterday continued a hearing charging Lima tavern owner Leona Wakefield with obtaining money from permit holders by promising immunity from prosecution. The board ordered the citation rewritten to include names and addresses of persons allegedly solicited. A state attorney said an employe of Mrs. Wakefield is accused of making the solicitations but she was cited because the liquor permit is in her name.

Russians Reject U. S. Protest Of Detention Of Yank Wives

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today returned a U.S. note protesting against what the United States called the forcible detention of the wives of two American Embassy officials.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow takes an extremely grave view of the incident, feeling that it strikes at the basic issue of the personal safety of American diplomatic personnel in Russia.

(In Washington, the State Department said the women were held by Russian secret police for approximately an hour and a half Monday "in violation of generally accepted diplomatic practice that prohibits the arrest or detention of persons having recognized diplomatic status."

(U.S. officials said the Soviet government countered the U.S. protest by accusing one of the wives, Mrs. Earl E. Sommerlatte, of "hooliganism"—a Soviet term for rowdy behavior—and demanding her recall by the United States Mrs. Sommerlatte is the wife of the embassy's second secretary.

(The other woman involved in the incident was identified as the wife of Marine Lt. Col. Houston Stiff, assistant naval attache at the embassy.)

(Washington officials said the women became alarmed during their detention and a scuffle ensued. One of the women slapped one of the policemen. This apparently was the basis of the hooliganism charge against Mrs. Sommerlatte.)

U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen heard about the incident Monday when he returned from lunch. He immediately notified the State Department in Washington and sent Frank Siscoe, first secretary of the embassy, to the Soviet Foreign Office to make an oral protest to the acting head of the American section.

After receiving authority from Washington, Bohlen sent a first-person note to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

Late yesterday, the Soviet Foreign Office summoned U.S. Minister Walter Walmsley. When he appered at the office, the head of the protocol section, M. Kisilev, read him a statement setting forth the Soviet position on the case.

Walmsley termed the statement a "fabrication" and refused to accept a written copy of the oral statement in which the Soviet government said Mrs. Sommerlatte was "no longer desirable" in the Soviet Union.

A Soviet note repeating the version given orally to Walmsley arrived last night at tht American Embassy.

Bohlen sent it back saying: "This version is in such flagrant contradiction of the facts that I am sure that after further investigation the Foreign Minstry will wish to change it."

About 1 a.m. today, the Soviet Union sent its note again to the embassy and at the same time returned Bohlen's note.

Both women involved are in a highly nervous state and have stayed close to their apartments.

"Both these girls behaved admirably," Bohlen said.

Hunston Explains 'Plan,' Raps Hays

POWHATAN POINT — Walter J. Hunston, Republican candidate for Congress from the 18th District, explained further his plan for progress and prosperity at a district GOP rally here yesterday.

He also lashed out at his opponent, Congressman Wayne Hays, for recklessly using the taxpayer's dollar to perpetuate himself in office. He said there are over 70,000 homes and boxholders in the 18th district, and practically all of them received a 25-cent cookbook from Hays, paid for at the taxpayer's expense, making a total expenditure of tax dollars of over $17,000.

"This, coupled with the fact that in 1952 my opponent paid over $2,100 to the Democratic chairman of Columbiana County between July 1 and December 1, 1952, and commencing August 1, 1954, paid him $378 per month to help him be re-elected, is a mighty severe indictment against him for complete recklessness in handling your tax dollar and mine. My opponent apparently forgets that the people who voted for economy in government in 1952 are just as economy minded today," he said.

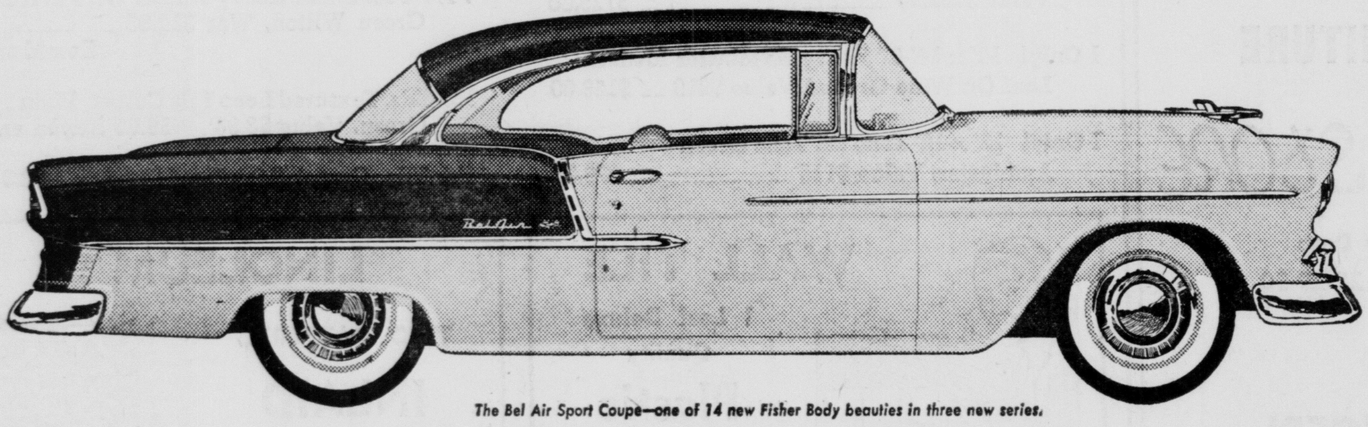

Mr. Hunston went on to say that he would demand an immediate investigation of the abusive dipping of hands into the public till to perpetuate candidates in office and also the violent abuse of the franking privilege of free mailing immediately before an election.

Wellsville Man On Trial On Assault Charge

LISBON — The trial of a 26-year-old Wellsville area brick factory worker, charged with assaulting Edwin Vocial, 23, of East Liverpool last April was expected to be concluded today.

Jack Reed of RD Wellsville took the witness stand this morning to defend himself on a charge of assault and battery of the pottery worker April 17.

Area jurors are:

Jessie Barcus of Salineville; Vera Robusch, 625 E. 8th St. and Irene Leaf, 1145 N. Ellsworth Ave., Salem.

Gertrude Powers of Columbiana, Ann Tepsic of Summitville, Joyce Lippert of Leetonia, Melba Boone of North Georgetown and Lucy Kleinman of Lisbon. Stella Mellinger of Leetonia is alternate.

Accused Man To Get Mental Examination

LISBON — Edward Melberg, 21, of Pittsburgh, charged with armed robbery of a Wellsville filling station last spring, was ordered committed by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp to Lima State Hospital for a mental examination Tuesday.

He was indicted by the September Grand Jury for the holdup of Bowen's Service Station on April 9.

Melberg withdrew his plea of guilty and pleaded innocent yesterday. His counsel suggested to Judge Sharp that the defendant is not sane and requested that he be sent to the hospital.

FACES TRIAL FOR RAPE

LISBON — A jury was scheduled to be impaneled today in Common Pleas Court where Virgil Willard, 33, of East Liverpool will be tried for statutory rape. He is accused of attacking a teenage Lisbon area girl last summer.

Kefauver

"we are full of hound dogs mixed up with kennel dogs, and none are doing any good."

Running the gantlet of the Republican platform, Kefauver attacked the passage of the revised income tax bill, saying that it was designed to take the burden off big business. He also rapped the employment situation; charged that the government has taken contracts from small business and given them to General Motors, and said that the present administration was not fulfilling its promises to the farmer.

He also attacked the Dixon-Yates Agreement by which, he said, the government guaranteed a private concern a nine per cent return on a 140 million dollar investment and the tidelands oil program from which he said only a few are profiting.

The noon luncheon which was sponsored by the Salem Democratic party was under the direction of Chairman Guy Mauro, who introduced a host of guests. Congressman Hays introduced Senator Kefauver.

Leo Copacia of Salem accompanied Kefauver on a tour of the rest of the county and Jefferson and Belmont counties, following his talk here.

ing, also was awaiting sentence.

Donahue, jailed pending his trial, was indicted along with Miss Josephine McDole of Midland, Pa., by the September grand jury for burglarizing a dress shop and farm market in Wellsville.

Wild was awaiting trial on a charge of forgery.

Deputy Sheriff W. L. Driskell, who discovered the break, said he made the rounds of the jail at 6:45 and found everything in order. But when he started his checking and got to the third floor at 7:40, he discovered the lights out.

Then he saw the bars missing and the hose tied up and spread the alarm.

Sheriff Langley said the bars were "soft and in bad shape."

Voters of Mahoning County next Tuesday vote on a $900,000 bond issue for a new county jail and office building.

Columbiana County has kept its prisoners in the Mahoning jail for some years. The voters of Columbiana County repeatedly have refused to approve bond issues for the building of a prison in that county, following the condemnation of the old one about 10 years ago.

The Clevelander who escaped last night some years ago escaped from Ohio Penitentiary. He was being held here on two counts of forgery and is wanted in Cleveland also on two counts of the same crime.

Donahue escaped from this jail in 1947. Officials said he was a parole violator and if convicted would be taken back to Ohio Penitentiary.

Among the prisoners who refused or at least failed to make the break was Michael Carney, known as "the Dynamite Kid," a central figure in a small reign of terror in his home city several months ago.

During his brief foray into crime he frightened his victims by declaring he carried a large charge of explosive under his vest.

of East Liverpool and crashed into an embankmert at 7:45 p.m.

The driver of the vehicle, Walter Thillberg, 40, and his 46-year-old wife, Carrie, are reported in good condition in the Liverpool Hospital where they were taken.

Thillberg sustained multiple lacerations of the face, scalp and eyelid and a scratched eyeball. His wife received a fractured collarbone.

State St. Lanes To Be Finished Thursday

If adverse weather doesn't interfere, all four lanes of State St. are scheduled to be completed between Lincoln and Ellsworth Avenues by Thursday night and workmen of the O'Dell Construction Co. will be ready to begin work on the intersection at State and Lincoln Friday morning.

However, with the completion of the curbing and the street, a new problem was brought into focus. In many places the sidewalks range from two inches higher to two inches lower than the curbing creating a safety hazard. Service Director James Feiler said this morning that this resulted when some sidewalks were laid which did not conform with the center grade of the street.

While the center grade of the new street is identical with that of the old pavement, the grade at the edges differs in many places from that of the old pavement. It was necessary to install the new grade in places to meet state specifications, the service director said.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer began a tour of State St. business establishments this morning requesting that sidewalks which don't conform with the grade be replaced.

He intends to meet with State St. merchants and property owners later this week to explain the problem and seek their assistance.

Already, Aldom's Salem Diner, the Haldi Shoe Store and the Farmer's National Bank have agreed to the repacement.

Sewage

with further plans for the sewage project.

But, he added, if there is no immediate way of securing the additional $450,000 and the project has to be undertaken in two phases, total engineering fees would probably increase from $41,000 to $45,000.

McPhee suggested that if the job has to be divided into two phases, the interceptor sewer, costing an estimated $154,000, and the trickling filters, costing $125,000, be completed first with the money obtained from the sale of the mortgage revenue bonds. The remainder of the $325,000 would be needed for engineering and miscellaneous fees, he said.

Contemplating an unfavorable decision by the court on the legality of the $450,000 general obligation James Aldom asked James Preston, a member of the law firm of Squire, Saunders and Dempsey, what the possibilities would be of having a special election at some later date.

Preston said that he thought it could be done, but would require a 65 per cent majority vote for passage, rather than the 55 per cent vote needed at the Nov. 2 election.

He said also that such a Council resolution could be passed in one night as an emergency measure, providing the rules were suspended by a three-fourths vote. If the necessary vote could not be obtained, the measure could be passed with a simple majority in three readings, but would require a 30-day waiting period before it became effective, he said.

L. J. Reimer, representing Ryan and Sutherland and Co. bond agents, who will probably handle the sale of the $325,000 mortgage revenue bond issue, said that he had talked to another member of the Squire, Saunders and Dempsey law firm who stated that before the firm would put its approval on the general obligation bond issue, if it was passed by the voters, it would seek a declaratory judgment.

Reimer quoted the firm member as saying that this was necessary because of a possible legal technicality resulting from the tardy filing of a request to have the issue certified by County Auditor I. J. Vorndran.

However, Reimer emphasized the lawyer's statement that such a court decision shouldn't delay action too long unless the court ruling against the legality of the issue.

Again under questioning by Aldom, Preston said that it was his opinion that the $325,000 bond issue, which Council resolved to award the Ryan, Sutherland and Co. for sale, would not be declared illegal because competitive bids were not accepted.

Queried by Clarence White, chairman of the Utilities Commission, Council Finance Committee Chairman William Stark stated that his committee had not considered possible alternatives to raising the $450,000 if the general obligation bond issue fails or is declared illegal.

McPhee, speaking on the need for concrete action in deciding which of the methods of undertaking the sewage expansion project was to be used, said a decision should be reached no later than Jan. 1. Reimer said that providing the legal means had been enacted, the entire sum of $750,000 could be on deposit by Jan. 1.

Plans and projects for the coming year were discussed and several membership applications were received.

et, appearing and speaking as such . . ." ABC said it had a similar policy.

Sen. A. Wilis Robertson (D-Va) said in an interview he believes Eisenhower's talks have been helping Republican candidates, but not enough to change the results materially.

"I think we Democrats will take the Senate by one vote—two, if you count Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) who says he will vote with us," Robertson said. "I think we will take the House with a 30-vote margin."

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) said the President is "impressing the people favorably—his campaining can't but help the Republican party as well as the country."

Judge Tobin Speaker At School Roundtable

ELKTON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin outlined a program to explain how teachers and school officials can help reduce school-age delinquency at a meeting of Columbiana County School Administrators Roundtabe.

The judge stressed two major factors to cut down the incidents of delinquency.

He said schools will have to assume more and more of the responsibilities of the home because increased numbers of parents are neglecting to instill in their children a sense of right and wrong.

Teachers and principals should guide children in the early part of their education to catch juvenile troubles in the beginning stages before they reach the court, he declared.

Rigby Mast, county welfare director, and Tobin advocated a mutual exchange of information on school and county agencies. Forty attended.

Judge Tells Rotarians Of Non-Partisan Ballot

The county jail bond issue and the non-partisan state judgeship contests were discussed by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp when he was guest speaker at the Rotary Club meeting Tuesday in the Memorial Building.

Dr. L. W. King was program chairman.

Democrats Run By CIO-Bender

Burke Praises Ike's Economic Goals

CLEVELAND (AP) — While Sen. Thomas A. Burke praises President Eisenhower's recently stated economic goal, Rep. George H. Bender claims the CIO dominates the Democratic campaign.

Both Burke, the Democratic incumbent, and his Republican opponent, Bender, spent yesterday in the Cleveland area and surrounding counties as the elections race entered its final week.

In a reference to a speech by President Eisenhower Monday night calling for an increase in the nation's annual production to 500 billion dollars by 1964, Burke declarded:

"I gather from his speech that the President has come to the conclusion that you cannot have a static economy. I was delighted to read that and I completely agree."

However, the stnator added:

"I have a very high respect for the President, but a person who is unemployed with a family to support can scarcely wait 10 years to supplement his income."

Bender contended the CIO had made "attacks on our American system of free enterprise."

He also asserted his Democratic opponent distributed campaign literature which "contains the kind of half truths which have been typical of the Democratic Party line throughout this campaign."

In Youngstown today to meet with Mahoning County Democratic leaders, Burke declared in a statement that the Republican leaders are the "same bunch of politicians and special interest boys who plunged this country into the worst depression it ever had."

Phosphorous Explodes, Two Men Are Killed

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP)—A truckload of phosphorous left after the filming of a war movie exploded and killed two men yesterday. A third was injured critically.

Killed in the violent blast were Louis Sarkas of Enciono, Calif., and Royal Lowe of Van Nuys, Calif., both about 45 and employed by Warner Bros. Studio.

Paul Zook, of Colorado Springs, was injured.

The men had driven the phosphorus, used for battle effects in the Korean War picture "Target Zero," away from the main building area to dispose of it. Officials said Sarkas and Lowe were in the truck when it exploded. Zook was about 20 feet away. The cause of the detonation was unknown.

Miner Trapped By 2 Cave-Ins, Escapes

BRANCH DALE, Pa. (AP) — Carl Herman, 67-year-old independent miner, was trapped 40 feet below the surface yesterday by two cave-ins.

He escaped with a simple fracture of the left leg.

The hardy miner, who operates his diggings with a partner near this eastern Pennsylvania community, was nearly freed from timber and rock which had him wedged inside the shaft when a second cave-in forced a crew of 35 friends and fellow miners to start rescue operations all over again.

JOBLESS PAY INCREASE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County has paid out more in unemployment compensation during the first nine months of this year than in all of the previous three years. The total for this year is $17,345,829 against $15,705,000 for 1951-52-53.

Quakers Face Toughest Game Of The Season Tomorrow Night

Rayen Ranked 8th In State; Is Undefeated In Six Contests

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

Coach Ben Barrett isn't planning any drastic changes in the Quakers' starting lineup Thursday night. For the most part he will go with the same lineup as last week.

Larry Hainan is giving Jack Alexander a race for the fullback position, and both Hainan and Alexander will see action against Rayen Thursday night, Barrett declared.

Barrett also said that Herb Haschen is giving both Captain Jim Beard and left half Dale Middeker a run for their money. Haschen has greatly improved over the six games the locals have played. The speedy junior weighs 154 pounds.

The lines of both squads will weigh about the same, with the Barrettmen slightly lighter than the Tigers. Coach Ralph Robinette's charges will go with a backfield averaging about 165 pounds while the Quakers will average approximately 156. With Hainan in the backfield, the Quaker average will be slightly higher.

The Quakers face the toughest game of their season Thursday night. The Rayenites are the top squad in Youngstown and hold a commanding lead in the Youngstown city series. The Tigers have downed Woodrow Wilson, North, Chaney and Ursuline in Youngstown.

Included in Rayen's string of six straight victories are wins over the East Liverpool Potters and Struthers. The Tigers rolled up a total of 54 points in each of those games.

Asked how he felt about Rayen's eighth rating in the state, Barrett said, "They must have something if they're way up there." The Tigers received that rating in this week's Associated Press poll.

Although he wasn't too enthusiastic about Rayen's win over Ursuline last week, Coach Robinette doesn't think the Barrettmen will give his boys much trouble.

Rayen has two of the best backs in Youngstown in Bob Timlin and Dick Horvath. Horvath is considered one of the best backs in this part of Ohio. He scored three TDs against Chaney early in the season and repeated against North.

Timlin handles his team efficiently in the quarterback slot. He mixes the plays up a lot and is a good passer.

Many of the area footbal squads play Thursday night this week because of the NEO Teachers Association Conference in Cleveland Friday. Several big games are on tap Friday night, however.

In the county, the Leetonia Bears take their undefeated slate of six games to Lisbon to tackle the Blue Devils in a crucial Tri-County League contest. Jerry Rose will carry most of Lisbon's hopes while Ron Stecker, Leroy Bell and Bob Sanders of the Leetonia backfield spark Robert McNea's Bears.

In a top state game Friday, the number one Alliance Aviators take on the third place Canton McKinley Bulldogs.

Boosters To Meet

The Salem Booster Club will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Memorial Building instead of Thursday because of the Salem-Rayen football contest Thursday, President John Pastier announced this morning.

Movies of last week's Salem-Wellsville game will be shown, and Coach Barrett will review the game and talk about this week's contest with Rayen.

Pastier reminds all Booster Club members selling membership tickets that they must be turned in tonight before the meeting.

49ers' Backs Lead Pros In Ground Gaining

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two hard-running San Francisco backs — Hugh McElhenny and Joe Perry—are battling for the ground gaining leadership, while Los Angeles' great passing ace, Norman Van Brocklin, tops the passers in the National Football League.

The latest league statistics show that McElhenny has wrested first place in the running department from teammate Perry as the league heads into its sixth week of the acmpaign. Detroit and Cleveland have played only four games as against five for the others. The Lions and Browns will meet in a postponed game Dec. 19.

McElhenny, former University of Washington star who finished seventh among the ball carriers last year, has gained 457 yards on 52 carries, an average of 8.8 per run. Perry is second with 407 yards on 63 attempts, an average of 6.5. Floyd (Breezy) Reid of Green Bay held on to third place with 311 yards.

Van Brocklin maintained his passing leadership, although he is being pressed by the veteran Otto Graham of Cleveland. Van Brocklin has a 10.7 yard average gain. He has thrown 124, completed 69 for 1,331 yards and six touchdowns. His percentage of completions is 55.6. Graham has an average of 9.4 yards with 93 thrown, 61 completed for 876 yards and eight touchdowns. Bobby Thomason of Philadelphia ranks third on a 9.1 average, 55 passes, 27 completed, 503 yards gained and five TD's.

Cassady Picked By AP Poll Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Wisconsin's Alan Ameche wasn't kidding last week when he tabbed Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, Ohio State half back, as an "underrated back who should be All America."

Coaches and sports writers enthusiastically seconded that nomination today when they picked 177-pound Ohio State junior as The Associated Press Back of the Week for his performance against Wisconsin last Saturday.

"Cassady was the difference," said Wisconsin Coach Ivy Williamson. "He's been the big guy every year against us. He does these things all the time — and just when they hurt most."

Where "Hoppy" really hurt the Badgers was by intercepting a pass and racing 88 yards for a touchdown that put Ohio State ahead 10-7 in the third quarter. After that, Wisconsin's defenses fell apart and Ohio moved to three touchdowns in six plays.

Cassady didn't expect to score when he grabbed Jim Miller's pass. "I just got it and thought I'd run as far as I could," he explained. "Somebody threw me a beautiful block and then when I got down on the sidelines near our bench, I thought maybe I could go if I cut back."

He cut and, as Coach Woody Hayes put it, "turned on all the jets."

In addition to that run, Cassady gained 59 yards in 7 runs from scrimmage, caught 2 passes for 25 yards and did some great blocking.

End Stocking Program At Berlin Reservoir

A five-year walleye fry stocking program was completed in 1954 in Berlin Reservoir, D. C. Armbruster, district 3 fish management supervisor reports.

A test net survey was conducted in Berlin Reservoir from October 12 to October 16, and 265 walleye were caught and returned to the lake. The length range was from nine and one-half to 31 inches, with an average length of 15½ inches. The largest one caught was over eight pounds. Studies will be directed toward determining natural reproduction in 1955.

No stocking will be done next year in this reservoir.

Mack Baseball Dynasty Ending

7 Clubs To Vote On Sale Of A's

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Barring unforeseen developments, today marks the final hours of the Mack baseball dynasty—a half century of Philadelphia Athletics ownership by Cornelius J. McGillicuddy.

Tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. the owners of the other seven American League clubs gather in New York to vote on sale of the A's stock to an eight-man Philadelphia syndicate.

If their vote is favorable—and, Arnold Johnson notwithstanding, there appears little chance it will be otherwise—the only Mack contact with the Athletics will be a one-ninth share in the club retained by son Roy Mack, and the title of honorary president bestowed on Connie Mack Sr.

Johnson, Chicago businessman who "almost" bought the A's earlier this month and then lost out to the Philadelpia group, announced yesterday he planned to attend the league owners meeting in New York tomorrow and stated he was "still interested in buying the Philadelphia franchise for transfer to Kansas City."

However, League President Will Harridge, in announcing the meeting, said the owners would consider the sale of the franchise to the Philadelphia syndicate. He made no mention of Johnson.

Whether Johnson will make an effort to be heard at the New York session—and whether such an effort would be successful—will have to wait until tomorrow for answers.

The general feeling in Philadelphia last night was that the long, hard struggle was nearly over, with the Athletics destined to remain in the city where they were first fielded as an American League entry by Connie Mack at the turn of the century.

If the owners approve the sale to the syndicate, there will remain only the formality of exchanging the syndicate's cash for the A's stock.

Connie Sr. will be handed—probably at a meeting in Philadelphia Friday—$604,000 for his 326 shares. Another son, Earle, is to get $450,000 for his 126 shares, and Roy will receive $20,000 cash and retain a one-ninth interest in the club.

Army, UCLA Roll On Strong Offense

NEW YORK (AP)—Three of the nation's top five teams in this week's Associated Press poll are rolling along with devastating ground attacks and two of them, Army and UCLA, are in the midst of spectacular streaks seldom equalled in major college history.

NCAA Service Bureau statistics released today showed Army has moved into first place in total offense with an average gain of 46 yards a game. The Cadets are second to Colorado in rushing offense with 340.4 yards a game to the Buffaloes' 345.8.

UCLA leads in scoring with 44.2 points a game and is third in ground attack, making 318.3 yards per start. Unbeaten Oklahoma, the other highly rated team in the AP poll, is fourth in rushing at 296.2 yards.

Army racked up 600 yards against Columbia Saturday, 532 on the ground, a single game high for the season. UCLA ran 498 yards in whipping Oregon State 61-0. It came on the heels of the Uclans 72-0 rout of Stanford. No other team in modern times has scored 133 ponits in consecutive games against major opponents.

Second to Army in total offense is Cincinnati with 402.7 yards a game. Arizona is third at 396.

Owner, Coach Blast Split-T Grid Offense

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Preston Marshall, outspoken owner of the Washington Redskins, today branded the split-T "lazy man's football."

His coach, Joe Kuharich, went a step farther, predicting the split-T would be dead in half a dozen years.

Marshall said none of the 12 National Football League teams has adopted the split-T offense because "it's so easy to defend against."

"The college coaches have adopted the split-T," Marshall said, "because it's the easiest form of offense to teach."

He added in an interview that he had said the same thing many times to Jim Tatum, coach at the University of Maryland, one of the leading split-T exponents in the country.

Kuharich said split-T players drafted by the pros don't measure up to professional standards. He listed Maryland and Oklahoma as the two strongest collegiate split-T outfits over the years and said practically nobody from either of those schools had turned into a professional star.

The split-T was devised by Don Faurot, coach at the University of Missouri. His two disciples, Tatum and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, gave impetus to the split-T movement, which now has spread to hundreds of colleges.

"You don't have to teach kids how to block under the split-T," Kuharich said. "You don't have to teach them intricate plays."

Marshall and Kuharich checked over the professional league's weekly statistics and argued that none of the leading passers in the NFL comes from split-T schools.

"Split-T quarterbacks sometimes can throw the long ones," Kuharich said, "but it's the very devil for them to connect on short ones. That's because of the way they have to move after taking the ball."

The split-T quarterback takes the ball from his center and then moves along a strung out line before pitching back to a halfback or fullback or keeping the ball for a rushing play himself. Sometimes he passes, but not very often.

OSU Picked Over Wildcats, Wisconsin Is Given Nod Over Iowa, Irish Over Navy On Saturday

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP) — Purdue, Ohio State, Michigan and Pittsburgh mixed knockout drops in the Ol' Swami's tea leaves last week. He's trying to recover:

Ohio State 27, Northwestern 13—The bristling Buckeyes have bounded into the No. 1 ranking in The AP poll off their 31-14 decision over Wisconsin. Northwestern, after eight successive conference losses dating back to 1952, could salvage the season with an upset. But the Wildcats, even if they weren't plagued by injuries this week, will have to spring the surprise on someone else.

Wisconsin 14, Iowa 7—Here's a vote of confidence that the Badgers will forget that nightmare at Ohio State and continue to chase the Big Ten title. They certainly can't be counted out with only one defeat against them, but they could with another. Iowa downed Indiana last week and is gradually working back up the ladder after league setbacks to Michigan and Ohio State. And the Hawkeyes will have the hometown cheering section behind them at Iowa City.

Michigan 20, Indiana 13 — The Wolverines may cool off after singlewinging over Minnesota, 34-0, but not enough to be upset by Indiana. Maybe the Hoosiers are ready to jell, like Michigan did against the Gophers.

Purdue 21, Illinois 13—Len Dawson's passing and Bill Murakowski's bull - like rushes should keep the Illini working overtime. Illinois' line and blocking still looked pitiful in a ragged, 34-6 triumph over Syracuse. J. C. Caroline may be more than a match for the Boilermakers, however.

Michigan State 19, Minnesota 13—figuring the Spartans' speed can knock out the Gophers' split - T machinery.

Notre Dame 21, Navy 14—A big upset could be brewing here, for the inspired Middies have one of their better teams and will be shooting for their first victory over the Irish since a 32-13 conquest in 1944. However, the Irish have had two weeks to prepare for this—and they needed it.

Northwestern Seeks Upset Over OSU Saturday

Voigts Sees Cassady As Chief Trouble Against Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—The victory-starved Northwestern Wildcats could turn this dismal season into a real success with a triumph Saturday over Ohio State.

Coach Bob Voigts, flustered because his team has lost three of its last four games by one touchdown, realizes Ohio State is the No. 1 team in the nation.

"Ohio State is a very fine team," he said yesterday. "I think they're better defensively than they were last year and they have a good forward wall. Both (Bobby) Watkinds and (Hopalong) Cassady are real good and that Cassady can break up a ball game any time.

"But we're out to bet them, and we can do it, I think, if we play the type of ball we did against Michigan in the last half. Cassady, of course, is our big problem."

Northwestern fell before Michigan 7-0, but the Wildcats held the Wolverines to a scant eight yards rushing in the second half and finished with a big advantage in the statistics.

Bothered with fumbles most of the season, Northwestern appears to have solved the problem. The Wildcats lost the ball only twice to Pitt last Saturday. However, the Panthers scored in the final seconds to win 14-7.

Upsetting the Buckeyes will be no easy problem. Fortified with an excellent line, Coach Woody Hayes, in addition to Cassady and Watkins, has a smooth quarterback in Dave Leggett and one of the best sophomores in the conference in fullback Hubert Bobo.

Bobo not only is a good offensive fullback but performs brilliantly on defense and does the punting.

"Not since Curly Morrison and Vic Janowicz have we had such excellent punting," sayd Bill Snypp Buckeye publicitor.

Ohio State has won five straight this season, a feat no other Buckeye team has accomplished since the 1944 Big Ten champions who went undefeated in nine games.

Psychologically, Northwestern should be at an advantage. The Wildcats have nothing to lose and everything to gain. Ohio State comes in riding high after its Wisconsin victory and could let down in view of the fact that it is facing a team whch hasn't won in the conference since 1952.

Aware of this, Hayes earlier this week said, "Northwestern held Michigan to eight yards in the last half and lost to Pitt in the last 40 seconds. If you take a team like this lightly, you're crazy."

Flanagan To Box Harper Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Welterweight title bout consideration will be at stake here tonight when Del Flanagan of Minneapolis, the No. 2 ranking contender, tangles with Maurice Harper of Oakland.

The 10-rounder at Winterland Arena will be nationally televised by CBS.

It is scheduled for 10 p.m., EST.

Flanagan, shifty and clever, is riding the crest of a 10-fight winning streak which includes a decision over the newly crowned world's welterweight champion, Johnny Saxton.

Harper is unranked and unknown except in this area. Local ringsiders think he has a brilliant future. This will be his most important fight and his first shot at a high-ranking contender. The Oakland boy has been ducked consistently by 147-pounders around here.

DEAR MR. AND MRS. VOTER:—

We have been conducting a positive and aggressive campaign for Election to Congress of the United States.

We believe that you are just as grateful as we are that the world is at Peace and that a calm, sensible approach is being taken to the problem of adjustment from a war-time to a peace-time economy.

We feel that although the country is enjoying the greatest peace-time prosperity in the history of our country—we of the 18th District are not getting our share.

We feel that the Congressman can be the spark-plug in a plan for progress and prosperity in the 18th District within the framework already set up by your government.

We would like your support on November 2nd.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. I. Lide

If there were any ducks on Guilford Lake the opening day of waterfowl season I failed to observe them.

Hunters bagged 21 coot and 9 blue wing teal according to the hunter bag check. Before firing began I saw 36 coot and 21 blue wing teal on the lake.

There were some wood ducks on the beaver dam on Route 172, adjacent to Guilford. I spent considerable time preventing the shooting o them because the large majority of hunters cannot identify a wood duck in flight.

Being unable to identify one duck from another does not excuse the shooter and I felt it was my duty to prevent violations rather than take some well meaning sportsman into court because he had made a mistake. One fellow said I had him so nervous yelling "wood ducks" that he passed up his only shot at a teal.

At a meeting of District 3, Ohio Division of Wildlife employes at Akron last week, we learned the main flight of ducks is not on yet. Hurricane Hazel created lakes in the more northern states grain fields and the ducks and geese are contented to stay where there is plenty of food and water. Imagine hunting ducks in a corn field with a row boat! Cold weather will have to set in before they continue their southward journey.

TWO SALEM OUTDOORSMEN returned home Friday from a vacation camping trip in the North Bay area of Canada. And, their trip was successful from a hunting angle, too. The men, brothers, were Jim and Joe Pidgeon, who shot a moose shortly before they broke camp.

THE TRI-STATE Casting Club of East Liverpool has begun lowering the water in their casting club pool in order to remove the bass and bluegills therein.

Anyone wanting a stocking of blue gills for their private ponds can obtain all they want by going after them. The bass will be released in the local streams and will be tagged by the Ohio Division of Wildlife.

Bass will not be passed out to individuals unless the pond owner consents to public fishing. The pond shoud be lowered enough by next Sunday when the removal operations will begin.

THE OHIO DIVISION of Wildlife has given the OK on importation of the San Juan rabbits offered for sale by a Washington State concern. After a thorough investigation they found these rabbits are Belgian hares that came into existence when the hare raiser discontinued business and opened the pens and let the hares go free.

If they have inbred with native rabbits or what happened is not so much the question. Any individual or organization wishing to import some of these hares can do so by making application to the Ohio Division of Wildlife and obtaining a fre permit before the animals are brought in.

The person receiving the hares must notify the local Game Protector when they will arrive and it is the Protector's duty to inspect these hares and determine if they are in a healthy condition before they are releasd.

The person to whom the s hipment is made must have the permit on his person when they arrive for inspection by the game protector.

I would suggest that anyone buying these hares, get a written guarantee they will arrive in good condition.

This new regulation applies to both fish and animals that are imported into Ohio and is a safeguard to prevent bringing in diseases that could cause an epidemic in our native stock that would cause destruction of what we have. It is a good ruling.

Ezzard Charles Named To Athletic Post

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight boxing champion, was appointed honorary deputy athletic commissioner of Indiana today by Arch Hindman, executive secretary of the Indiana State Athletic Commission.

In a citation at the Anderson Downtown Coaches Club, Hindman praised Charles because he "met every challenge willingly and without delay" and "we feel that you will never be one to take everything out of boxing without putting something back."

Hindman said the Indiana commission voted unanimously for the tribute to the Cincinnati fighter.

4th St. PTA Members Hold First Session

Parents became "students" when they attended "classes" in elementary and Junior High grades during a Parent Teacher Association meeting at 4th St. School Monday evening. In the upper grades, schedules were conducted on a 10-minute basis.

At the business meeting, Dr. Sherman Moore, president of the association, presided when 125 members heard reports given by committee chairmen.

These included plans for future programs by Mrs. Harry Loria; membership by Mrs. Orein Naragon; and budget report by Mrs. Mary Louise Guhl for Donald Stelts.

Superintendent of Public Schools E. S. Kerr told the group that furnishing kitchen equipment for the school should be completed by Dec. 16.

Purchase of phonograph records for the school will be made with $75 donated by last year's PTA group, it was announced.

Lunch was served by hospitality committee chairman Mrs. Albert Catlos, assisted by Mrs. Donald Stelts, Mrs. Charles Schnell, Mrs. Richard Kilbreath, Mrs. Robert Lutz, Mrs. Thirl Eckstein and Mrs. Alden Gross.

The next meting will be Thursday, Dec. 16, at which time a program will be presented by the music department of the school.

Interest In Money

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I have a morbid interest in money," confessed George Axelrod, a young man who wrote in 60 hours a Broadway play he says will earn him a million dollars.

For the actual time he spent at the typewriter in turning out "The Seven Year Itch"—now being filmed as a vehicle for Marilyn Monroe—this comes to $16,666.66 an hour.

Axelrod, who is 32, wears a crew cut, and looks like a fugitive Princeton freshman, thinks this is a fair rate of pay for a writer—if he got to keep the money.

But, of course, he doesn't. Today it may take more time to figure out the income tax on a hit play than it does to write it.

"You work for years and starve," said George wryly, "and then when you hit the big loot they take it all away.

"Money is no longer enough. A writer needs some new kind of payment that can't be taken away such as a guarantee your golf score will improve. Or they might promise to add two years to your life or—in my case—agree to find a way to make my front teeth come together."

But until something better does come along Axelrod has decided money is about the best all-around substitute.

"Writing doesn't count unless you get paid for it," he said. "I can't even write a letter to my son now unless he promises to send me a buck for it.

"Art is a byproduct of writing for money. Shakespeare wrote because he needed dough. You always write better when you're hungry.

"It's much harder to write unless you have to do it to meet bills. This is still no problem on me. I always manage to have a few bills that need paying.

"But if you get good money, you've got to do a good job to earn it. I hate the guys who go to Hollywood with the loot-and-scoot idea, who grab all the big dough they can, do nothing, and then leave town complaining it's impossible to do creative work in the Hollywood atmosphere.

"I loved Hollywood. I had myself a real ball out there.'

At 18, "after being thrown out of most of the good schools in the East," George became a bit actor on Broadway, confined to lines such as "Madam, Dinner Is Served."

"I was a horrible actor, but I wanted to learn stage techniques," he said. "I knew that at 18 I couldn't write anything that people would pay $4.40 to see."

At 20 George watched the rehearsal of a radio show. then went home and turned out a script for one himself and sold it for $150.

"Since then I've turned out between 500 and 600 radio and TV shows," he said, "written two novels, and turned out gags and comedy sketches for Martin and Lewis, Peter Lind Hayes, Robert Q Lewis, and many other big comedians.

"I was an Army private for three years, digging holes for telephone poles for the Signal Corps in Europe. When I got out I had two really lean years before things turned better."

It was at his wife's insistence that Axelrod wrote "The Seven Year Itch" in 1952. He did it in 15 four-hour sesions at the typewriter.

"After four hours I just pooh out," he said.

Today George gets $75,000 for a movie script, double that amount if he furnishes the plot, too. He is currently polishing up a new musical, "The Rogers and Hart Songbook," and hopes to write "five or six of the greatest plays in the history of the world," then become a producer.

"There comes a time when you can't do it anymore,' he said. "It happens to every writer. He wears out. Or at least he gets to the point where what he writes no longer pleases himself, and then the money alone isn't enough. It's time to quit.

"How can you tell? Well, it's the 17th morning in a row that nothing happens. That is the big fear in every writer—the awful morning when he knows he has nothing more to say."

George looked thoughtful, then smiled.

"Gee," he said smiling, "maybe it was this morning for me."

Nation's Living Costs Show Drop

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government reported today that the nation's living costs declined three-tenths of one per cent in September to the lowest level since last April.

The labor department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said its consumer price index dipped to 114.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average. The decline was attributed largely to lower prices for most foods, primarily fresh fruits and vegetables, coffee and eggs.

The September index compares with last April's 114.6, May's 115.0, June's 115.1, July's 115.2 and August's 115.0.

The September living cost measurement is four-tenths of one per cent lower than a year ago, and six-tenths of 1 per cent below the October, 1953 record of 115.4.

In announcing the new figures, Mrs. Aryness Joy Wickens, acting labor statistics commissioner, declined to predict what living costs will show for October when those figures become available next month, and in subsequent months this fall.

If You Can Count To 5, You've Survived

Duck At Sight Of Brilliant Light Is H-Bomb Survival Tip

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Scence Reporter

CINCINNATI (AP)—Here's an A-bomb or H-bomb survival tip:

If you see or sense a sudden brilliant or blinding flash of light—duck and count slowly to five.

If you reach five, you have survived. Then take stock. If you have the customary number of fingers, legs and other body parts, if you can hear, and aren't bleeding badly anywhere or bleeding from the nose or ears, you probably have nothing to worry about.

It will mean you haven't been hit at all, or significantly, by the three killers in thermonuclear weapons. The three are radiation—including X-rays and neutrons—heat or fire, and the blast wave. The blast wave itself, and objects like bricks, stones and glass sent flying by the blast, could be lethal.

Counting off the five seconds will mean you were at least a mile from the heart or center of the atomic bomb. It takes five seconds for the sound or blast waves to travel a mile. And at a mile distance, you probably won't get any significant amount of radiation.

This rough formula was given today by Col. Harvey C. Slocum at the annual meeting of the American Society of Anesthesiologists. Slocum is professional consultant in anesthesiology to the surgeon general, and chief of anesthesiology and operative service of Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D. C.

It applies to A-bombs such as exploded over Japan and can apply to H-bombs too. For much of the deadly effects of all these bombs go straight up in the air, or could miss you by hop-sctoching over you if you had ducked soon enough, or had ducked behind sufficient protection, he said.

Slocum mentioned the formula in saying that if a nuclear bombing catastrophe occurred, anesthesiologists could and should have special lifesaving jobs to perform.

13 Puerto Ricans Get Jail For Conspiracy

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen Puerto Rican Nationalists convicted of seditious conspiracy against the United States Tuesday were sentenced to six years' imprisonment each.

Federal Judge Lawrence E. Walsh pronounced the sentences against the group, which was charged with plotting to overthrow the United States government by force.

Ex-Wife Of Clark Gable To Marry Fifth Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Sylvia Gable, whose fourth and latest husband was Clark Gable, now plans to marry Georgian Prince Dimitri Djordjadze.

She confirmed the wedding plans last night and said she will be married in New York probably "in a few weeks."

She was born in London, became a chorus girl and lingerie model and in 1927 married Lord Ashley, son of the Earl of Shaftesbury. She divorced him a few years later.

In 1936 she married Douglas Fairbanks Sr., who died in 1939, reportedly leaving her a million dollars. In 1944 she married the sixth Baron Stanley of Alderly and divorced him in 1948.

Her two-year marriage to Clark Gable ended in divorce in 1952.

Djordjadze, 55, a ormer officer of the Russian Imperial Cavalry, is assistant to the president of the Hotel Ambassador here.

He has been married twice previously, most recently to Cincinnati millionairess Audrey Emery from whom he was divorced several years ago.

Sheppard Trial Already Costs Above $19,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Sheppard murder case already has cost more than $19,000, not including the fees of Chief Defense Counsel William J. Corrigan.

Corrigan said yesterday the family of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard has paid about $4,000 for court reporters, a special stenographer and other expenses.

Not included is the $1,000 paid for bail bond and fees to be paid for a private investigator and other attorneys.

Frank T. Cullitan, Cuyahoga County prosecutor, said expenses incurred by his office total about $1,500, including those of state witnesses and for trips by investigators and lawyers.

Still to be added are court costs such as jurors ($5 daily), witnesses ($3 daily) and transcripts.

The biggest single bill was the one for $13,200 which Cleveland police handed suburban Bay Village for handling a large part of the investigation leading to the indictment of the osteopath.

Halloween Pranksters Warned By Patrol

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway patrol today warned Halloween pranksters to take care—especially concerning motorists.

Col. George Mingle, patrol superintendent, advised Halloweeners to confine activities to places other than streets and highways. He added:

"Throwing objects at autos can be a serious offense and may cause an accident. Soaping windows is one of the common pranks, but even this can cause trouble if a driver's view is obstructed."

There have been cases over the state, the colonel said, where frightened motorists have lost control of their autos or swerved to miss obstructions placed on highways and wrecked their cars causing injury or death.

Judge Bans Photos In Court Room

CLEVELAND (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin today banned the taking of any pictures in the court room, either before or afte the sessions of the Sheppard murder trial.

Although photographers are not allowed to take pictures during the actual trial itself, they have been permitted to work in the courtroom before and after the sessions.

Judge Blythin issued his order after Defense Attorney William J. Corrigan protested because pictures were taken of the tentative jury this morning.

Corrigan told the judge that photographers "were crawling all over the place."

News photographers later conferred with the udge but he refused to change his order.

County Auditor

BRINGING THE VOTERS AND TAX-PAYERS UP TO DATE

Editorials, used by I. J. Vorndran in his political ads, were written by WAYNE PAULSON as Editor of The East Liverpool Review in 1948 and 1950.

HERE IS WHAT WAYNE POULSON ,NOW PUBLISHER AND EDITOR OF THE COLUMBIANA LEDGER, RECOMMENDS IN 1954—

(Editorial October 21, 1954)

We recommend the retirement from office of I. J. Vorndran, the County Auditor, becaues he has presumed to become a sort of "county manager", delving a finger into activities at the Courthouse far removed from the Auditor's office.

Naturally, this has become a source of irritation to others elected or appointed to office, and has produced an unnecessary atmosphere of friction in the Courthouse.

Vorndran's recent pronouncement of a 20 per cent cut in land values as they appear on the tax duplicate is a sample of his methods. Instead of consulting others who would be involved, and attempting to bring about the reduction by common understanding, he plunged ahead on his own, hiring a corps of people to change some 60,000 cards, revamping the duplicate on his own formula — and scaring the daylights out of people like school superintendents, who don't have enough money now, and turn pale at the thought of a further reduction.

In a calmer discussion, after the uproar has been touched off, it turned out that Vorndran must submit his work not only to the Board of Tax Revision here at home, but to the State Tax Commission. Those are legal tactics designed to curb this sort of bull-in-the-china tactics on the part of auditors.

This is the most obvious shrotcoming of Auditor Vorndran. But his all-around meddling is more serious, and, we believe, more injurious to the well-being of county affairs than even his tax rate fiasco.

We recommend that the Democratic nominee, Almon G. Marshall of Lisbon, be made the county's new auditor at the election on November 2.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Epilepsy Should Not Be Cause For Despair

Mrs. T. writes that her 13-year-old daughter, who has never been sick in her life before, has taken three epileptic fits in a week. She says she is bewildered and afraid to let the little girl go out at all, and feels as though her life is ruined.

Dr. Jordan

This distress on the part of the parent of a child who develops epilepsy is certainly understandable, and one can give deep sympathy to the mother, while telling her that she must not despair, but rather to take what steps she can to aid her daughter.

Epilepsy is primarily a disease or condition of the brain. It is commonly divided into two main varieties. The less important knd is called petit mal in which there is a brief loss of consciousness without convulsions. The severe type is called grand mal, in which there is loss of consciousness with typical convulsions.

Before an attack there is usually a peculiar sensation in some part of the body. This is known as an aura. The sensation is hard to decribe, but an "uneasy feeling" in the stomach area is one of the most common. Thase who have epileptic attacks learn to recognize ths aura and to know that an attack is on the way.

At the beginning of a major attack the patient may give a loud scream or yell, which is called an epileptic cry. When an attack first begins the head is usually drawn back or to one side, the jaws are fixed, the hands clenched and the legs extended straight out. This is quickly followed by muscular contractions, noisy breathing and a brick-red colored face. During all this period from the epileptic cry on, the patient is unconscious.

After the attack, however, the patient recovers, consciousness without recollection of what has happened.

Today there are methods of testing the electrical waves in the brain which have shown that the brain waves of someone with epilepsy are different from those of a normal person. This method of testing has already proved to be of great help in finding out what people are most likely to develop epilepsy, how serious the disease is, and what treatment is best for that particular patient.

More has been learned about epilepsy in the last few years than in the preceding three thousand years of human history. With the drugs and management now available, many victims of the disease can be greatly helped,so the outlook for Mrs. T.'s daughter is not necessarily dim.

Serve Brown Tuna Croquettes

Crispy - brown on the outside, these tuna croquettes have soft, delicate centers.

Serve them plain or with a sauce, and they'll become a favorite fish meal with the entire family.

5 tablespoons flour
teaspoons sat
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup milk
1 7-oz. can tuna, flaked
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
Fine bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon water

Cook onion and celery in shortening until tender. Stir in flour, salt, and pepper. Add milk, cook and stir until thick and smooth. Add tuna, lemon juice, parsley, and mix well. Spread mixture in shallow pan and chill in refrigerator several hours or overnight.

Shape into small cylinders about 2½ x 1". Roll in crumbs, dip in egg, then roll again in crumbs. Fry in deep hot shortening (375 degrees F.) 2-3 min., or until brown.

Dutch Potato Salad Fine New Treat

For Sunday supper parties, Dutch potato salad is a welcome item. We learned to make it in California at the home of friends who entertain easily and warmly.

Potato Salad

Six potatoes, cooked (4 cups cubed)
1 onion, finely chopped
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
1½ cups chopped celery
1 cucumber, diced
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon paprika

Combine all ingredients. Sprinkle with ¼ cup French dressing and chill for 4 to 6 hours. Just before serving, add enough mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten.

Garlic Bread

Mince 2 peeled cloves of garlic and cream into ½ cup butter or margarine. Slice a loaf of French bread in 2-inch slices not quite through to the bottom crust. Spread slices with garlic - flavored butter. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired.

Place bread in a paper bag, or wrap in aluminum foil, and heat in a moderate oven until heated through — 10 to 15 minutes.

Cook Lean Beef In Hearty Sauce

There's so much lean beef around — the kind that's perfect for stews and hamburgers — and at very low prices, that a few good recipes are in order.

As fresh vegetables are abundant and reasonable, combine them with the meat for extra flavor and nutrition.

This lean, grass-fed and full-flavored meat has been the basis for many famed foreign dishes such as sauerbraten, boeuf a la mode and boeuf ragout. These are but a few of the wonderful dishes of flavorful beef, slow cooked in an inspired sauce.

In Chicago recently, we talked about the lean beef situation with Beth Bailey McLean, author of "Meat Cookery" and director of home economics for Swift and Co. Mrs. McLean gave us her recipe for beef turbins made from a low-cost beef chuck pot roast and cooked in a hearty sauce reminiscent of German sauerbraten.

In general she recommended the use of chuck and other economical, less tender cuts of beef in dishes in which the meat flavor blends with a tasty sauce.

Zesty Beef Turbins
(Yield: 4 to 5 servings)

Two pounds lean beef chuck pot roast
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
½ cup water
1 tabespoon sugar
1 tablespoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon paprika
2 teaspoons salt
1 bay leaf or 1 teasoon marjoram
¼ cup four
¼ cup fat
1 large onion

Cut beef into uniform, boneless servings. Put into a bowl. To make a sauce, combine vinegar, salad oil, water, sugar, mustard, paprika, salt and bay leaf. Pour over beef. Turn pieces to coat well with sauce. Keep in refrigerator about 2 hours.

Roll pieces of beef in flour to coat well and brown on all sides in fat in skillet. Slice onion over meat. Use remaining sauce and increase with water to make 1 cup. Pour over beef. Cover.

Cook slowly 2 hours on top of range or in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until meat is fork tender. Serve meat and gravy over hot noodles or spaghetti.

Hot Southern Barbecue Sauce

Three-quarters cup fresh lemon
½ cup hot sauce*
1-3 cup tomato catsup
1-3 cup cider vinegar
½ cup water
1½ tablespoons brown sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ teaspoons powdered dry mustard
2 teaspoons paprika
¾ teaspoon ground black pepper
¾ teaspoon ground cayenne pepper
¼ cup margarine or butter.

Combine all ingredients. Heat only to boiling point. Use as the basting sauce for barbecuing all types of meat and poultry.

Turkey Sandwiches Are Sunday Treat

If you have roast turkey for Sunday dinner, you also have the makings of a delightful Sunday supper party dish. Our talented friend, Helen Goodrich of Los Angeles, served it to us recently. You'll like it.

Sizzling Turkey Sandwiches
(Serves 4)

Four cups creamed turkey (with nips of gren pepper and celery for zip)
4 toasted English muffins or crisp toast
4 tomatoes, medium size
Easy Cheese Sauce or grated Cheddar cheese

Prepare creamed turkey. Put toasted muffins or crisp toast on heat-proof serving dishes. Cover with hot creamed turkey. Top with peeled tomatoes, and cover all with Easy Cheese Sauce or grated cheese. Brown lightly under broiler and serve at once.

Easy Cheese Sauce
(Enough for 4 servings)

One half pound processed American cheese
1-3 cup milk, fresh or evaporated

Melt cheese in double boiler. When melted, stir in milk.

Here is a vegetable recipe for Sunday dinner:

Stuffed Baked Potatoes
(Makes 6 servings)

Cut small slices from ends of 6 medium potatoes. With an apple corer, cut hole through center of each potato. Fill the holes with grated carrots which have been seasoned with finely cut green onion, salt and pepper and a little melted butter or margarine. Plug ends with potato slices.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 45 minutes to 1 hour. Squeeze potatoes open or cut gashes in tops to allow steam to escape. Serve with additional seasonings as desired.

Be accurate when you measure dry ingredients such as flour and baking powder for cake or cookie making! Fil the cup or spoon to overfowing without packing or shaking down. Then pass a spatula or knife over the top for even leveling.

Easy To Make Noodles-Tuna

When the mother of four young children, who is also an active church worker, says she has some quick-to-prepare recipes her family enjoys, we want to hear about them.

Mrs. Marcella O'Neill of Osceola Mills, Pennsylvania, is that good cook and mother and here are her recipes:

Noodle and Tuna Patty Casserole
(Makes 6 servings)

One tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces medium egg noodles (about 4 cups)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons all purpose flour
1 1-3 cups milk
1-3 cup dill pickle liquid
1-3 cup chili sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup chopped dill pickles
2 7-ounce cans solid pack tuna, drained
2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon minced onion
salt to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Drain in colander. Turn into greased 1½-quart casserole. Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour; gradually add milk and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly.

Add pickle liquid, chili sauce, Worcestershire sauce, ½ teaspoon salt and dill pickles; mix well and pour over noodles. Break tuna into pieces with a fork; add eggs, bread crumbs, minced onion and salt to taste.

Mix well and shape into 6 patties; place on top of noodles. Garnish patties with cheese rounds, if desired. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes.

Tuna Macaroni Beet Salad

One tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces elbow macaroni (2 cups)
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
1 cup chopped cooked beets
½ cup chopped onion
2 cups shredded cabbage
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg, well beaten
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup sour cream

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water and drain again. Chill.

Break tuna into pieces with a a fork. Combine cooked macaroni, tuna, beets, onions and cabbage; mix well. Chill.

Dieters Need Hearty Breakfast

Now that you've decided — along with your doctor — that you are going to lose a few pounds, where do you begin?

It's smart to start with the first meal of the day, because here is the key to any successful dieting plan. Nutritionists have always recognized the importance of toasted enriched bread, an egg and fruit and coffee, of course. But it wasn't until recently that doctors began to urge their overweight patients to eat a good breakfast.

Contrary to popular belief, cutting down on breakfast — or eliminating it entirely — is not the way to lose weight. In fact, it may actually have the opposite effect.

The person who begins the day with a skimpy meal and practically no lunch is virtually "starved" into overeating by dinner time. And it's these heavy-dinner calories that are notorious for adding weight because the body has less chance to work them off.

Leading health and nutrition authorities agree that dieters will feel better, work better and lose weight more effectivey if they start the day with a big breakfast. A breakfast that provides one-quarter to one-third of the day's total food requirements not only reduces the temptation to overeat at night, out the calories consumed are more likely to be worked off during the day than the calories from any other meal.

The toast, fruit and egg are equally important. None should be omitted. The toast alone provides the body with three important B vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, and the mineral, iron.

Stuffed Cabbage Roll Uses Beef

Fresh vegetables are abundant and reasonable. Lean, grass-fed beef is in oversupply and prices are down. So if the two are combined in delicious flavorful dishes, packed with nutrition, everyone gets more fun out of eating and at budget prices.

Stuffed Cabbage Roll
(Yield: 5 servings)

Five fresh green large cabbage leaves boiling water to cover leaves
½ teaspoon salt
1 pound ground lean beef
1-3 cup diced celery
1-3 cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
½ teaspoon powdered dry mustard
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 cups diced fresh tomatoes
1 cup sliced carrots
1 tablespoons hot water

Wilt the cabbage leaves in boiling, lightly salted water until limp enough to roll. Combine the next seven ingreditnts and place ½ cup on each cabbage leaf. Roll up and fasten end of leaves with toothpicks. Place in a baking dish. Top with tomatoes and carrots. Add water. Cover. Bake 40 to 60 minutes or until vegetables are tender in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.)

Braised Short Ribs with Vegetables
(4 servings)

Two and one-half to 3 pounds beef short ribs salt
peper
flour
1 medium onion
½ cup celery leaves
2 sprigs parsley
1½ cups hot water or bouillon
6 medium carrots
8 small onions
3 to 4 medium potatoes

Have short ribs cut into individual servings. Remove excess fat. Salt and pepper and roll in flour. In a large heavy utensil, melt 2 tablespoons fat and brown short ribs thoroughly. Add sliced onion, celery leaves, parsley and liquid.

Cover and simmer over low heat for 2 hours or until meat is nearly tender, adding more liquid in small quantities as needed.

Add vegetables, sprinkle with salt and pepper and continue cooking, covered, for 30 minutes or until tender.

Remove meat and vegetables to hot platter. Skim most of fat from liquid, dilute to the desired strength and thicken with a smooth flour and water paste. Season.

Bender Seen Running Ahead Of Burke In Ohio

GOP Runs Scared, Improves Position In Six District States; May Save 'Lost' Campaigns

(Editor's: This is another in a series of summing up stories by roving Associated Press reporters who are analyzing the campaign in various sections of the county.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are running so scared they may have frightened themselves into a stronger position than they held 30 days ago in the block of industry - farm states stretching from Indiana to Pennsylvania.

A fear complex caused by talk of a Democratic trend — whether real or imagined—has spurred the GOP into efforts that possibly could salvage campaigns which had appeared to be lost causes in the battle for Congress.

A close look at the campaigns in six states — Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana—leaves a strong impression that it's a tight, close fight in this region. The pay-off could very well go to the side with the best organization for getting out the vote.

These six states will elect four senators and 96 representatives. The Senate seats at stake are divided evenly and the House seats this way: 61 Republicans, 34 Democrats, and 1 Independent including vacancies. A slight shift either way is important to the control of Congress.

The great unknown, of course, is whether or not there is underway a shift of voter sentiment from Republicans to Democrats as the Democrats claim and the Republicans fear. Unless the experts are badly mistaken, the signs to point to such a trend.

The situation raises these questions:

1. In just two years, have the issues which swept the Republicans into power been cast aside by a majority of voters as no longer being a reason to vote Republican?

2. Have the voters with the balance of power become so disenchanted with the Eisenhower administration they want the Democrats back in power?

3. And if so, how does this square with all the reports that President Eisenhower still is tremendously popular with the voters

The usual political explanation is that the people regard Eisenhower as standing somewhat aloof from politics, and that voter resentment isn't directed at Eisenhower but at those around him.

Even a good many Republicans are fearful this analysis may be accurate and it's a primary reason why they're suffering from jitters.

Neither side has found a slogan such as the GOP's 1952 cry of "the mess in Washington," nor an issue to match that of "let's bring the boys home from Korea" which Eisenhower used so effectively against Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

For this reason, many politicans think the November election will come down to a case of which side does the job of getting out the vote—in short, a battle of organization.

The Democrats appear to be gambling heavily that this one is going to be a "pocketbook election" — with a bonanza of votes coming their way from the unemployed; from small businessmen feeling an economic pinch; from workers who don't have the overtime pay they had a few years ago and who are afraid of being jobless; from farmers whose prices have sloughed off and who are dissatisfied with the GOP cut in price supports.

In every state in the Kentucky-to-Pennsylvania block, Democrats have seized on the economic situation as their No. 1 issue, saying the Republicans have a do - nothing policy toward the unemployed.

The theme is that the GOP administration favors the privileged few and not the mass of low-income families. The Democrats have promised the voters they'll turn the economic trend upward and produce a bigger and better prosperity than the Republicans.

The Republican argument is that Eisenhower must have a GOP Congress to carry out his program which, they say, has already placed this country on a sound peacetime economic basis. They argue the unemployment is a temporary result of shifting from a war to a peacetime economy—and that the situation isn't as bad as the Democrats picture it; that it's far better to have things as they are than to have the country at war. The Republican theme: Stay with Ike—and stay at peace.

For the most part, foreign policy, taxes; McCarthy and other national issues have been dumped into the background. They don't appear to be anywhere near as influential as in the campaign two years ago.

If there is any single development in the campaign more surprising than the others it is that the Democrats have bounced back from their 1952 defeat so full of optimism and confidence.

The optimism is on the Democratic side. Party leaders have sold optimism from the start of the campaign in early September when former President Harry S. Truman convinced them they should double their campaign goal and throw a million dollars into the battle for Congress.

But now there's some Democratic uneasiness this barrage of optimism might ricochet. Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell last week cautioned party workers that "over - confidence and complacency may rob the Democratic party of the congressional victory that is within our grasp."

Whether this optimism is merely a product manufactured by professional politicians or a genuine grass roots surge will be revealed next Tuesday.

Here's a brief run-down on the situation state by state as seen by experienced political observers But it is outlined with the reservation that a strong Democratic surge would shift the estimates far more sharply in favor of the Democrats.

KENTUCKY—The big attraction is the popularity contest between Democratic former Vice Presidnt Alben W. Barkly, 76, and Republican Sen. John Sherman Cooper, 53. Barkly is the favorite because of his tremendous personal popularity and the Democratic tradition in Kentucky. His age is a factor which some Kentuckians believe could swing the election to Cooper.

To win, Cooper must get a solid Republican vote, win the independent vote, and convert some Democrats to his cause. It would look like an impossible task except that Cooper is popular in his own right and he's won in two past races.

The consensus: Barkley to win. No change in the congressional lineup of six Democrats and two Republicans.

OHIO—Unemployment in the industrial centers and lower farm prices are the two major issues in the race between Republican Rep. George Bender and Democratic Sen. Thomas A. Burke for the unexpired Senate seat of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. This is a tight one, with the experts inclined to give Bender a shade better of it because his name is better known to the voters and he's proved to be a good vote-getter in the past.

But Burke has the support of popular Democratic Gov. Frank Lausche, running for an unprecedented fifth two-year term — and who looks like a winner. Some think Lausche's popularity may rub off on Burke and give him the boost he needs.

The consensus: Bender by a close margin. Possibly no net change in congressional seats.

MICHIGAN — Youthful Democratic Gov. G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams, with strong union support, is regarded generally as a safe bet to repeat. Unemployment in the automobile industry and the dairy farmers' grumbling over prices have given a boost to Democratic hopes. Months ago Sen. Homer Ferguson (R - Mich) was considered a sure winner, but now the experts say it's a tight race and Ferguson is in trouble against his Democratic opponent, Patrick V. McNamara.

The consensus: Ferguson to win a close one. The Democrats to pick up at least one and possibly two House seats.

PENNSYLVANIA—There is no senatorial contest this year and the big fight is for control of the state government. The Democrats have elected only one governor in Pennsylvania in 70 years—but they've got the Republicans scared this year. Eisenhower gave the whole GOP ticket a plug at his Gettysburg farm Saturday. Here again unemployment in coal, steel, and railroads and farm prices are top issues. Also some top GOP administration figures are under indictment in Allegheny (Pittsburgh) County on charges of illegally forcing state employes to contribute campaign funds. But GOP leaders claim they'll carry Philadelphia and if that proves to be true, the Democrats are too optimistic.

The consensus: A close one for the Republicans. Possibly no net change in House seats.

WEST VIRGINIA — Democratic Sen. Matthew W. Neely, 79, has pitched his campaign on an anti-Eisenhower theme. He's calling Eisenhower "the poorest President the United States ever had" and making the state's unemployment problem the major issue against his GOP opponent, Thomas B. Sweeney of Wheeling, who is 42. Age apparently has not slowed Neely down nor dimmed his chances.

The consensus: Neely to repeat easily. The Republicans have a good chance to pick up one House seat.

INDIANA—There are no senatorial or governor contests and only minor state offices at stake. The general picture according to those close to the scene is one of a switch of the independent vote from the Republicans to the Democrats—and if it gains strength the Republicans are in deep trouble.

The consensus: The Democrats to gain two House seats and possibly five if a Democratic trend develops strongly.
